Dedication

After four long years, the armies of the United Nations are on the march and victory is, at last, in sight.

There is not a home in America which has not in some way felt the impact of this terrifying conflict.

Therefore, it is with deep humility and eternal gratitude, that we dedicate this issue of THE OWL to the graduates of the Hillsdale Elementary School, who are fighting so gallantly, both at home and abroad.

May they, who have paid the supreme sacrifice, not have died in vain, but rather have given their lives that we, the younger generation, may live in the realm of a peaceful world when this hostile conflict is ended. May we be worthy of their sacrifices!

TRIBUTES TO FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

In 1933 Franklin Roosevelt led this nation out of one of its worst periods in its history. By declaring the Bank Holiday he probably saved the country from a great calamity since banks up to that time had been failing at an alarming rate. To create jobs he started a series of public works - building dams, repairing roads, and building new post offices and public buildings. To help people who had met financial reverses he created the H.O.L.C. Soon afterward, Roosevelt started Social Security and old age pensions to provide incomes for elderly men and women. One of his greatest accomplishments was to make the United States internationally minded and break down the old worn out theory of isolationism. Roosevelt warned the people of the Facist menace in Europe. He was a great factor in providing England with Lend-Lease supplies. His foresight led to the passage of the Selective Service Act which prepared our nation for the inevitable war. He conducted the war in the best possible way. He appointed the very best generals. For proof look to the war fronts. In my opinion his greatest accomplishment was in helping to lay the foundation for an organization to keep the peace. Now Roosevelt, whose administrations have produced much progressive legislation, is dead, but his ideas will live on long afterwards. Many of his countrymen did not approve of his policies, but let it not be said that he did not give his life for his country.

Charles Hoffman, 8-1.

Why do we pay tribute to F. D. R.? Because he was our president, our leader, our commander-in-chief, and a great friend. We admire his courage when he was stricken with infantile paralysis. He didn't forget that either. That is why we sent our dimes by mail to him on his birthday. In the dark days of 1933 he helped rescue us from the depression. In 1941 he signed the Lend-Lease Bill for which he fought so hard to pass through Congress. His greatest plan was his foreign policy for which he strived the hardest. He longed for the day, April 25, 1945, at which time he was going to open the San Francisco Conference where all the peace loving countries of the world were to meet. But he died thirteen days too soon. He died in battle.

Paul Girard, 8-1.

President Roosevelt was a servant to God and his country. I am sorry that he did not live to see his work accomplished.

Joan Tillotson, 7-2.

Franklin Roosevelt's death has shocked the world, but his memory will live on forever. He was a great man and did everything in his power to help the world get a better civilization.

Mae Marchak, 7-2.

TRIBUTES TO FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

Franklin D. Roosevelt, a man who became president of the United States in 1933, died fighting like a soldier for his country and his people. His sudden death shocked the world. Mr. Roosevelt was a servant of God and his country. He died fighting for a world organization and the rebuilding of the world.

Dolores Wethington, 7-2.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, our beloved president, died last month. He died at the time victory in Europe was near. He left us to travel to another land beyond this earth. Now the San Francisco Conference is under way, and the name of Franklin Roosevelt is mentioned frequently. He is at the conference, not in body but certainly in spirit. When his death occurred nations and all peoples in the world were in sorrow. He was thought of as a good friend of all the people and as a good neighbor to other countries of the world. Roosevelt was a man of great personality and great acts. He was and still is greatly respected as a leader among the people of the United Nations. He will be thought of as a great, efficient leader. He is thought of at every move, every step which brings us nearer to victory and peace. The world has lost, but can we really say lost? No, Franklin Roosevelt is not gone. He has just left this earth, but he remains in the hearts of many, many people.

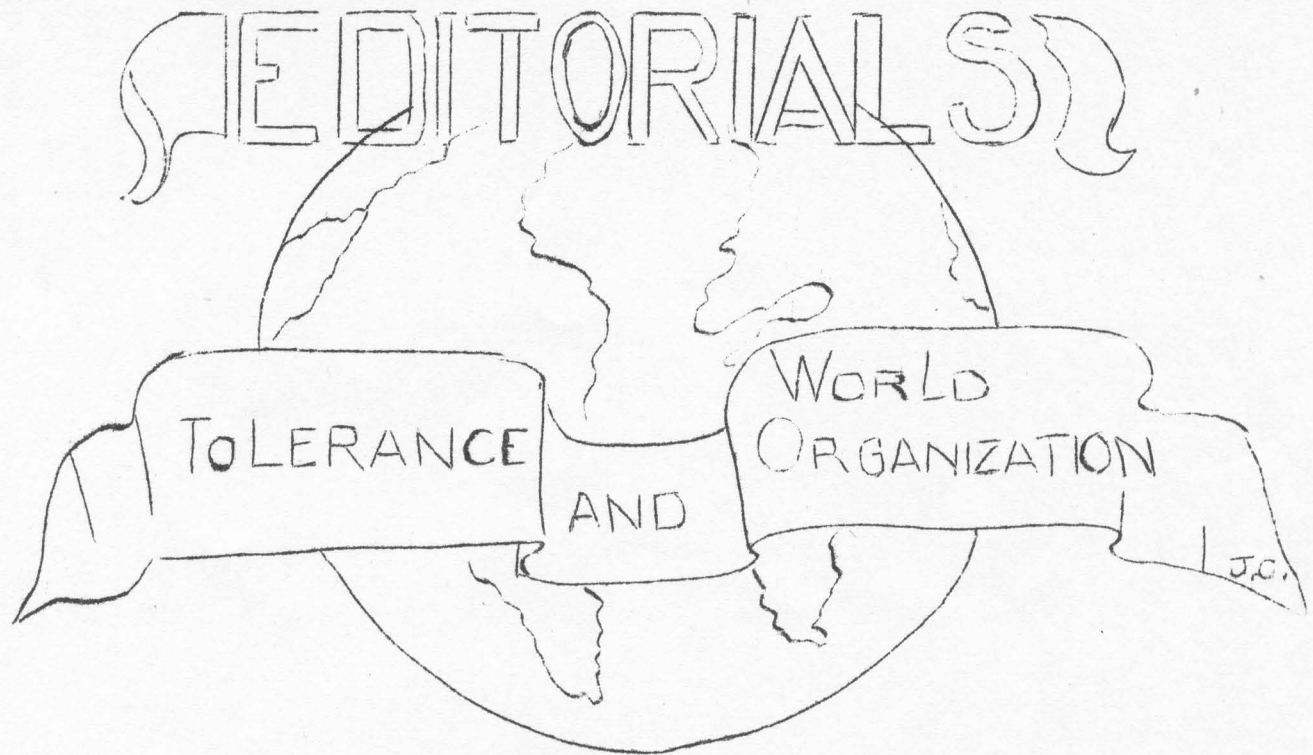

Winifred Knowles, 7-1.

The whole country should pay tribute to our late President Roosevelt. The world all knows how nice Mr. Roosevelt was. He always tried his best when at conference with the other countries to make peace among them. Many of our American people are going to miss him not only for making peace between Mr. Churchill and Mr. Stalin, but because he always understood people. He may not be on the earth with us but he is in our minds and hearts. He can never be forgotten because every time we want to make a decision about our government we will always think back and try to remember what Mr. Roosevelt would do if he were here. When he was buried, everyone in the world missed a very nice, understanding, peace loving man.

Louise Keir, 7-1.

Franklin Roosevelt was one of the greatest leaders this country has ever had. Although handicapped at the height of his youth by the dreadful polio, he led this great country through one of the most trying times in its history. He established the Infantile Paralysis Fund to help innocent children who were stricken with this horrible disease. He wanted most desperately to see the San Francisco Conference succeed and news reporters who were in on his last interview said he was straining his strength to accomplish it. Maybe Roosevelt's funeral arrangements should have been more spectacular, but I think Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt expressed with great simplicity that he would have preferred to have it that way. Although this great statesman and leader is dead, his memory will linger in the minds of true patriots everywhere.

Joan Davidson, 7-1.

PEACE

One score and six years ago a man tried to inform the people. They would not listen. This man warned that if the Senate rejected his proposed plan it would be the prelude to another war. The country did not listen, and his prediction has been filled to the letter. This man, if you have not guessed, was Woodrow Wilson, who proposed the League of Nations to prevent future aggression in the world forever.

Recently, Franklin Roosevelt told the people the exact same thing as President Wilson told us. Let us hope that the people and the Senate of the United States have enough foresight to accept this proposition.

Twenty-six years ago the Congress of 1918 killed the program because of two reasons - politics and prejudice against President Wilson.

Of course, some critics have pointed out flaws in the Dumbarton Oaks program. It is true, there are many things to be corrected, but remember, "Rome was not built in a day." We have made a great start toward a permanent peace at Dumbarton Oaks, Bretton Woods, and the Act of Chapultepec at Mexico City. Let us hope that more progress will be made at the world conference at San Francisco on April 25th.

This is written to persuade you, the public of the United States, to give the United Nations Conference your whole-hearted support in the coming months when the question will be voted upon in the United States Senate.

C. J. Hoffman
President of 8-1

The Task of the San Francisco Conference

The San Francisco Conference is now being held in San Francisco, California. The task of the conference is to establish an organization to maintain peace in the world for all the countries, large or small.

We cannot and must not expect perfection and complete harmony. The delegates of 47 nations of different backgrounds, languages, and economic interests are meeting. There is bound to be disagreements.

The problems are many. One was the question of Argentina's participation. She has been aiding Germany since the war started and many people felt that she should not be represented. She might give Germany information. However, some people still believe that we should hold to our agreement of letting all countries at war with Axis nations attend. But the other side replies that if Japan were to suddenly declare war on Germany we would not want her at the conference. Another uninvited country is Poland because she has not yet established a government agreeable to the Allies.

Another problem is the matter of votes in the Assembly in the United Nations Organization. Russia wants three votes - one for Moscow, the Ukraine, and White Russia. Many people oppose Russia's demands on the ground that it would break up the system of having a vote for a nation.

We can not expect full harmony and we must not think that all the intricate details will be ironed out. However, we may be sure that after the conference has adjourned there will be much greater understanding among the Allies, and regardless of the extent of accomplishments it is a step in the progress of world democracy.

Reconversion After V-E Day

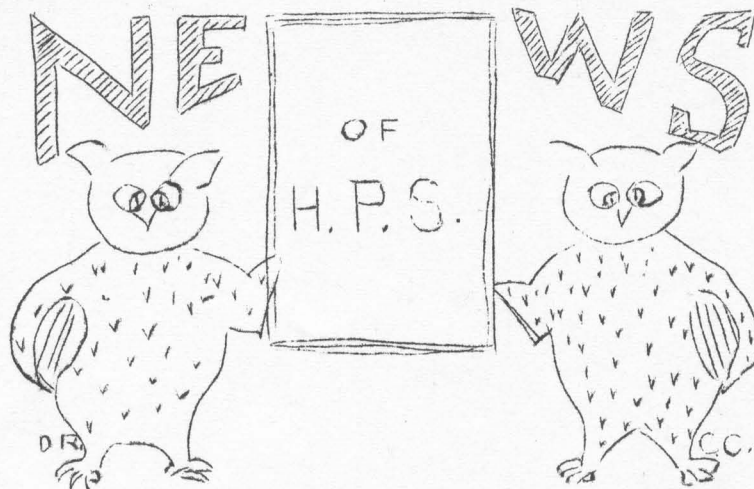

The Allies are now pushing further and further into Germany. When our forces liberate all peoples under German control and every German has been made to surrender his arms, it will be V-E Day or victory in Europe. We must not think that the fall of Berlin means the end of our struggle. There will still be much hard fighting to do and many more sacrifices to make.

We also must not expect everything to go back to normal immediately. Many of our boys will not be sent home but will either be sent to fight in the Pacific area or kept in Europe to occupy or rebuild fallen countries. Factories will not stop going for there is still the fight against Japan. Some may close or cut down on war production slowly to try and avoid mass unemployment. Therefore we can not expect an abundance of peacetime goods immediately.

As soon as V-E Day comes we shall have to concentrate our efforts on defeating the Japanese Army. Let's keep on buying war bonds and stamps and making sacrifices so that complete victory will come that much sooner.

The Carden Method

About April 1944 the Carden Method was introduced into our school. The Carden Method embodies a revised approach to learning. At present we are stressing its new approach to reading.

The former system of reading was founded upon memorization. A child's skill in reading was in direct proportion to his ability to memorize and retain vocabulary lists. When he met with an unfamiliar word he had to depend upon one of three things:

1. Determine the meaning from the context.
2. Judge the meaning from any accompanying pictures.
3. Wait to be told the meaning.

This system encouraged the element of guessing. In many children there developed a reticence toward attacking new work because of the possibility of meeting with a vocabulary not previously prepared. The insecurity which grew out of this uncertainty made many children unhappy in the reading world.

The Carden Method offers a simple system of vowel patterns which gives a child control of the elements which make up words. This empowers him to pronounce all words, those within his hearing vocabulary and also those outside it. Knowing what he knows and having the tools by which to control the unknown gives the child a sense of security out of which grows a relaxed, happy, and more exploring spirit.

Along with the sound patterns goes a program of training in rhythmical reading which makes for improved comprehension.

We are very happy with the results of our one year's work. In the upper grades this has been in the nature of a remedial program. We are confident that as the children trained in this method from the beginning go through the school, the value of this new training will become more apparent and gratifying.

Christmas 1944

This year the traditional Christmas play of the past few years was replaced by one in a lighter vein. Two scenes from "The Birds' Christmas Carol" by Kate W. Wiggin were presented by some members of the eighth grades. Under the splendid coaching of Miss Smith and Miss Gersten it was warmly received by a capacity audience.

The first grades under the able direction of Mrs. Heayn and Miss Wullschleger gave a play entitled "Santa's Toy Shop."

Between the two presentations the Glee Club under the direction of Miss Weber sang some carols.

All during the week before Christmas vacation, spirits ran high. Plans were made for the Christmas parties which were to be held in each homeroom. Drawings expressing the Yuletide season were on the blackboard and trees were beautifully decorated and lighted.

On closing day, the 7-1 class serenaded every other class with "Deck the Halls with Boughs of Holly." Mr. White asked that they sing for a member of the armed forces who was visiting in his office. This soldier in a quiet and humble way thanked them for making his Christmas a happier one. This made a great impression on the carollers.

After the parties in the rooms where cake, candy, cookies, sandwiches and ice cream were served, school was closed for the holidays. In the hearts of all was the Christmas wish, old, yet ever new, "God Bless Ye, Everyone."

Safety Patrol

The Junior Safety Patrol consisting of forty-three boys and girls have tried during the past year to fulfill their duties as outlined by the Safety Council, the members of which are: Chief of Police Koelsch, Principal White, and Miss Smith.

The student officers of the patrol for this year are as follows: Edward Rush, Captain; Charles Weiss, Lieutenant; Mary Blinn, Lieutenant. The girls in Mary Blinn's platoon are stationed inside the building and the boys in Charles Weiss's platoon are at posts outside the school building.

The aim of the Safety Patrol is to so inspire each student with the idea of obeying the laws for safety that he will instinctively follow them. This work not only helps in the maintenance of order in the building and on the school grounds, but to us patrol members it has brought home the fact that we are a working part of our community, first of all obeying the laws ourselves, then helping in their execution.

All this is sponsored by the patrol and we wish to thank everyone for the fine cooperation given to us. We especially thank Miss Smith, our adviser, who gives of her free time, "passes off smilingly" interruptions in her classwork, reprimands us with fairness, and adds her praise when the job is well done.

Recreation Program

The Hillsdale Board of Education, Hillsdale Parent-Teacher Association, Junior Safety Patrol, and eighth grades have sponsored all kinds of entertainment Friday nights such as basketball games with dancing afterwards, roller skating at twenty-five cents a person, and dancing. These affairs which last from 7:30 to 11:00 P.M. have done more to keep students off the streets than would have been expected.

Parents, teachers, and Mr. White have always been cooperative and good-natured about coming to help with skates and supervise our dances.

The children in the seventh and eighth grades and high school are the ones who are usually permitted to come to the dances and roller skating events. When there are basketball games all children are invited to attend. Parents have been encouraged to drop in at these events and see what the children are doing.

At the dances and roller skating there are always refreshments such as assorted cookies and soft drinks.

We are all indebted to the Hillsdale School.

Eighth Grade News

The eighth grades will soon be making plans for their annual commencement exercises.

Class pins have already been delivered. They are the same as last year's, gold with a crest of the front entrance of the school building. The year of graduation is on the guard.

This year, as in the past, the eighth grades will have their annual swimming party at the Pascock Pool. This outing has also developed into a class hike because of the lack of transportation facilities.

Plans are also under way for the graduates party which is annually given by the Parent-Teacher Association. It will be held some evening in June, at which time there will be dancing and refreshments.

Graduation exercises will be held Wednesday evening, June 20th, in the school auditorium. The theme of the program will be America's contribution to literature. The guest speaker will be Cameron Beck, vocational and industrial consultant, and noted lecturer and traveler.

Red Cross

Perhaps the one outstanding activity of the school year has been the work of the Junior Red Cross.

In the fall, the drive for membership went over the top, 100% membership with a total of $53.76 collected.

At Christmas time, used books, toys, and games were donated. Under the supervision of Mrs. Frost and with the help of Mr. Bogert and the boys in the shop, the toys were repaired and repainted. The results were magical, and over a hundred children in Bergen Pines and Hillsdale were made happy at Christmas.

Twenty boxes were packed with Christmas presents and sent abroad. A most interesting letter was received from England acknowledging the gift.

Three hundred and eighty-eight Christmas cards were collected for the convalescent home in Pawling, New York.

Eleven afghans were made of material, donated by Mr. Klapowitz of Park Ridge, for Camp Shanks. Although several classes worked on these, the 6-1 class finally completed them under Mrs. Frost's leadership. One was completely made by the 6-1 boys.

This spring the chairman of the Junior Red Cross stressed the need of magazines and playing cards. The call went out and within a week the pupils had collected, bundled, and tied over twenty-five hundred (2500) magazines. We also sent thirty-five decks of playing cards.

About ten educational boxes filled with school supplies were packed and sent to children in foreign countries this spring.

The first of March, Mr. White announced the start of the Red Cross Drive. He suggested that we try to better the amount sent in last year.

The home rooms became busy beehives - plans were made - sales began. When the amounts from all the home rooms were finally counted, we learned that we had more than doubled that of last year. We had raised three hundred dollars and sixty-five cents.

Mr. Hoffman, the local chairman, spoke in assembly, thanking us for our generous gift. He also announced that at that time it was the largest gift donated by either an organization or a single contributor. This is a challenge for next year. Can we meet it?

Open House

On the evening of November 5, 1944, our school held its annual "Open House" for the parents and friends of the school.

A short musical program was given under the leadership of Miss Weber, our music teacher. Mr. Buckley, President of the Federated Boards of Education of Bergen County, spoke on the Equalization Plan for the schools of New Jersey. Mr. Kenyon, President of the Hillsdale Board of Education, invited the parents and friends to inspect the school, its equipment, and to meet the teachers in their classrooms.

Evenings like these are invaluable. Here parents have the opportunity to ask questions and find a fine meeting ground for closer cooperation and understanding. The members of the Board of Education are most anxious that the people of Hillsdale join them in making meetings of this sort successful.

RESIGNATIONS

In April of this year Mrs. Helen Frost, sixth grade teacher, left to accept another position.

Mrs. Elizabeth Waldvogel, third grade teacher, also resigned her position in April.

Another teacher whose resignation has been received to become effective June 30, 1945, is Mrs. Virginia Measday. Mrs. Measday came to Hillsdale in February, 1930 and throughout this period has proved herself to be invaluable because of a versatility which enabled her to fill varied needs as they arose. Foremost in her consideration was the welfare of the individual child and of the school. With complete disregard for personal preference, with sympathetic understanding, and untiring effort, Mrs. Measday has taken over in many difficult situations from kindergarten through eighth grade. It was she who established our present kindergarten through wholehearted cooperation with the Mothers' Committee before it was incorporated into the school system.

In Mrs. Measday's going the administration and faculty are losing a capable co-worker and the children an understanding friend.

The resignation of Mrs. Charlotte Travolta, who has been on leave of absence during this year, will become effective June, 1945.

Mrs. Travolta, formerly Miss Kline, came to Hillsdale in Sept. 1926. During the greater part of this time she taught English in the 7th and 8th grades. At other times she taught 6th grade.

Mrs. Travolta rendered invaluable service as accompanist at graduation exercises, assemblies, and operettas. As faculty adviser, she greatly aided in the publication of the school paper, THE OWL.

The administration, faculty, and pupils regret very much that Mrs. Travolta will not be back with us.

Hillsdal School's Friday night social programs are going to miss the efficient leadership of Miss Gertrude Gersten whose resignation will become effective June, 1945. With initiative and enthusiasm she has sponsored and worked diligently toward establishing a social program for the children of Hillsdale.

An outstanding contribution to her pupils has been Miss Gersten's ability to provoke thought processes which have aroused interest in current problems and developed a keen awareness of civic responsibility.

Miss Gersten, through a revised system of cataloging has facilitated greatly the use of the school library for reference, thus making it a vital part of the children's experiences.

Another activity which Miss Gersten initiated and to which she has devoted an almost inestimable amount of time and effort is the publication of the school paper, THE OWL.

Since becoming the 8-2 classroom teacher Miss Gersten has worked with Miss Smith, 8-1 teacher, in the preparation and presentation of the annual graduation exercises.

In Miss Gersten's going the administration and the faculty are again losing a colleague, energetic and amenable, and the children a real pal.

SERVICEMEN

Last year we sent a copy of THE OWL to the boys in service who were graduated from the Hillsdale School. The response from so many was so appreciative that we are publishing another edition of our school paper and sincerely hope that we may once again send a touch of home to our boys and girls who are scattered in many distant places and perhaps bring to them memories of former friends and classmates.

We have tried to gather up-to-date information about former Hillsdale students. Because of the lack of time and space we have limited ourselves to a list of those boys and girls who reached the 8th grade in the Hillsdale School. We are well aware that our list is not complete and that in many cases we are lacking information. This is due to the difficulty involved in contacting the families. We assure you that any errors or omissions are unintentional.

At this time we should also like to thank all parents and friends who cooperated with us in compiling this list of names and addresses.

We deeply regret to report that H. Stoner Springer, class of 1928, has been reported as "missing in action" since last September.
