NEED OF JUNIOR HIGH STRESSED

Hillsdale Board of Education Sees Part Time Sessions As One Relief.

DISCUSS UNION HIGH

State Scheme Will Eventually Be Answer—Medical Examiner Makes Report.

Discussion as to the immediate need of a Junior High School and the plans whereby the people of the Borough may be told of this need, featured the regular meeting of the Hillsdale Board of Education held on Monday evening at the school. It was pointed out by Board members that with the increasing number of students every term in the school, it would soon be necessary unless another remedy was forthcoming. The only other method which could possibly relieve this situation would be the enlarging of quarters, as the present building is full to its capacity. With more children coming in February, at the opening of the second term, several classes of the school will be larger than ever before, Principal George White stated.

It is thought that not many people of the Borough will wish their children to attend school on a part time basis, but unless the Junior High School is adopted here, the part time session will be the ultimate outcome.

Several members of the Board stated that they were heartily in favor of a Union High School, which they believed would be established in the Pasack Valley within the next few years. If a union High School is adopted, a plan which is much favored by the State Board of Education, and Hillsdale has no Junior High School, students from this town will be unable to attend the union High School. Already other communities in this vicinity have seen the importance of the Junior High system and have adopted it. Towns in the neighborhood of Hillsdale that have Junior Highs are New Milford, Oradell, Westwood and River Edge. Park Ridge and Hillsdale are the only communities of any size that have not adopted the system.

Best For Children

A Junior High School will keep children who are just entering the age of adolescence in the home atmosphere for another year. It has been pointed out by leading educators of the State that it is in reality a cruel practice to cart children away from their homes and home surroundings at the commencement of this period of life, and send them away to new surroundings and an entirely new curriculum such as a High School affords.

Aside from the discussion of the Junior High School need, the most important business of the evening was the report of the Medical Examiner, Dr. James W. Fox. He stated in his report that he had drawn up material for a booklet entitled, "The General Hygiene of the Child," which gives the proper requirements for diet, wearing apparel, necessity of sleep, care of teeth, and general health conditions that should be followed. The Board thanked Dr. Fox for his interest in this matter, and authorized the printing of these booklets, which upon completion will be given to each child, to be carried to his parents.

Dr. Fox also brought to the attention of the Board the necessity of having the teeth of the children properly cared for, and suggested that a dental clinic be organized here, with Dr. William A. Stewart, local dentist, in charge.

Jenner Fast Describes The Sight of "Twin Cities" at Night From Air

A well known resident of Hillsdale received recently a letter from Jenner R. Fast, now on a trip to California. Mr. Fast's letter is very interesting, telling of the "high spots" in his trip to the West. His letter is published in its entirety, and follows:

"I left Hillsdale November 29, and ran through a blizzard crossing Michigan; temperature at Detroit was six degrees below zero—one of the Pullman cars froze up during the night. At Chicago, there was no snow, but clear and cold, the temperature about 10 degrees above, so I decided to run up to Minneapolis to see my friends, the Brinks, who formerly lived in Hillsdale. I took an airplane, a trimotor all-metal Ford plane, accommodating 14 passengers, only four went on my trip of 400 miles north, which was covered in three and one-half hours.

"We arrived after dark and I shall never forget the wonderful sight of flying over the Twin Cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis at night. The thousands of brilliant lights of the cities, especially lighted for the Christmas season, are a sight that cannot be de-

MISS EILEEN MEANEY

The above photograph shows little Miss Eileen Meaney, of Magnolia avenue, Hillsdale. Eileen received recently a book of tickets, good at any Fox theatre, for winning a contest held at the pharmacy of P. E. Nielsen, Hillsdale. Miss Meaney, who is only ten years of age, guessed a total of 1023 parcels which were in the window of the store, there being 1026. She is very glad at having won the theatre tickets and says that now she will take her mother and father to the pictures.

The Civics Department of Westwood Woman's Club held a meeting on Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Louis Ruckner, with Mrs. Harry Randall, chairlady, presiding. SCHOOL PLAY HUGE SUCCESS

"Pirates of Hawaii" Shows Fine Coaching of Instructor—Children Act Well.

The operetta give in the Parish Hall, Hillsdale, on Friday evening, proved a decided success and was very well presented by the pupils of the grammar school. Each solo part was rendered in excellent form, as well as the chorus, all of which displayed the splendid training of their instructor, Miss Janet Smock, who deserves much credit for the success of the performance; also, of Miss Charlotte Kling, who did all the accompanying on piano. Special mention is also due the teachers who assisted with costumes and scenery.

Principal George G. White addressed the audience briefly, thanking all who attended to support the performance, in spite of very inclement weather. He also stated that about 300 children from the lower grades had attended the dress rehearsal performance given last Thursday afternoon.

A tribute of flowers was presented to Miss Smock and Miss Kling, in appreciation of their untiring efforts.

Those taking part were: Mary Sheen, Dora Ann Sheen, Louise Mitchell, Lorraine Slack, Lavina Durie, Loreta Stewart, Edith Back, William Furley, Harold Margolis, Andre Dury. The chorus of Hawaiian girls was composed of sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls, and the chorus of pirates was made up of sixth, seventh and eighth grade boys.

Christmas Meditation

(Editor's Note: Rev. Harold N. Smith, pastor of Hillsdale Methodist church, has written the following Christmas message, telling the real meaning of Christmas and the Christmas spirit. Rev. Mr. Smith was asked by the editor of this paper to explain the real significance of the festive occasion that we know as Christmas.)

Christmas Makes People Act Natural

Everybody seems to like Christmas because people act more human than. The best that is in people is most certain to come out around Christmas time, whether they be old or young. Everybody disports his best manners, wears his best clothes and puts up the best front he can before the world and society in general. If there is any kindness in the human heart you are bound to see it during this festive season. Men with rough exteriors are seen carrying home packages which contain tender gifts associated with the most delicate of sentiments. Lives which have been lived ruggedly are now engaged in deeds of mercy and love. Even those men and women who live the most unthinkable lives, playing the wares of the Devil, are not unkindly of the observance of Christmas. Nearly all people participate in Christmas. Indeed, there is no other event in the life of the world that is more commonly shared.

Christmas Reunites the Members of the Family

Christmas may be regarded as a family festival. Just think of it—how closely the family is drawn together at Christmas—why, all of us want to be home for Christmas. The principal desire of the parents is to have all the children home at Christmas time. Just let one be absent, and it is felt most keenly. Some persons pride themselves on their loyalty to the dear old folks at home, which loyalty they prove by joining the family circle every year at this time. No amount of money is too large and no distance too great when going home for Christmas is the goal. It is home, children, and old friends, that fill out the complete round of Christmas pleasure.

Christmas is Giving Time

It isn't Christmas if you are not giving something away. Giving is the big thing. People seem to be at their best when they are giving. That neighbor who comes over to present you with a Christmas present is feeling very friendly towards you. You have to think something of a person before you give him very much. Why do mothers and fathers enjoy so much seeing the children get up Christmas morning? The answer is obvious, there has been some giving going on and the parents are being more than repaid by the reception that follows. When people start giving to good causes they become alert, and interested as well as interesting. Christmas was started centuries ago by giving. God was the donor, it was His gift of the Christ Child that started Christmas. It is giving that keeps the world going around.

Christmas Is Remembering Time

The noblest people exercise themselves by remembering. He is the best friend who remembers his friends most. Christmas is a monument dedicated to memory. People thought that God had forgotten His world, so Christmas was inaugurated to insure man that he had been remembered. The key word of Christmas is Emanuel, "God with us." We are therefore remembering each other now in our way, even as God has remembered us in His way. Our efforts at Christmas are dedicated to the remembrance of friends everywhere. Our hearts are gladdened by the evidence that our old friends have not forgotten us.

Christmas Is a Time For Feasting

Master Plan Developed For Hillsdale's Growth

E. P. Goodrich, W. D. Heydecker and A. W. Keller, Consulting Engineers, Give "Word and Figure" Pictures of the Borough's Future—Mayor Yates and Mayor-elect Livengood Give Interesting Talks—Table of Urgency Needs, With Dates and Estimated Costs, Is Outlined.

The Hillsdale of the future, a beautiful town in which to live, was summarized in word pictures for the members of the Borough Planning Committee, the Mayor and Council and interested citizens who gathered at the Borough Hall on Tuesday evening to hear the report of the planning consultants, W. D. Heydecker, E. P. Goodrich and A. W. Keller, resident engineers. The keynote of all the speeches given was that Hillsdale should grow along lines planned for the future, so as to have something definite on which to work and not to have the Borough increase its size in a haphazard manner. It was stressed that this growth should be kept well within the means of the taxpayers to bear the burden of taxes and bonded debts, which might be increased from time to time. All the planning for the Hillsdale of the future was computed along these lines.

Mayor Yates opened the meeting with a short talk, introducing W. W.

TOWN READY FOR HOLIDAY

Homes, Stores and Churches Are Prepared for Visit of Santa Claus.

Merchants of the town are ready for the final Christmas rush of buying, stores of all kinds having ample stock and enough clerks on hand to meet the needs of their customers, a final check-up of the business section of the Borough showed to-day.

Department stores, with their huge stocks of toys, men and women's wearing apparel, and gifts of all kinds for every member of the family; grocery stores and meat markets with unusual quantities of foodstuffs on hand for the Christmas feast; tailor shops busy with the rush of preparing clothes for the holidays; delicatessens eager to serve their customers; confectionery and novelty stores with their fine lines of greeting cards, toys and confections, all present a busy town in the midst of the annual holiday of holidays, Christmas.

Homes are commencing to display their Christmas attire. Wreaths are seen in windows; housewives are busy purchasing Christmas trees for their loved ones who are expecting Santa to leave his bundles of presents under the branches of the decorated tree, and last but not least, every member of the family is seen carrying around, very securely, parcels wrapped and tied with holiday wrappings.

Churches are preparing for the Yuletide. Musical directors are preparing the programmes of music for their choirs; Sunday schools their Yuletide entertainments, and the pastors their Christmas sermons. Above all the spirit of Christmas is paramount and the town is awaiting the arrival of Santa next Wednesday with wide open arms.

Dutch Settlers Spent Christmas 319 Years Ago Near Hillsdale

Adriaen Block, a Holland Dutchman, and his little band of hardy pioneers probably celebrated the very first American Christmas in the vicinity of Hillsdale and Westwood, 319 years ago. That was in 1610, or exactly four years before New Netherlands, later to become New York, was founded at the tip of Manhattan Island, according to old records made public this week by John T. Buckley, President of Hillsdale National Bank.

"Histories show," said Mr. Buckley, "that Henry Hudson probably was the first white man to set foot on Manhattan Island and sail up the North River. Two years later, or about 1610, the first Dutch traders were sent here under Hendrick Christiaensen, to follow up Hudson's account of prospective business with the Indians. Manhattan Island then being a wilderness, these Dutch traders lived on their boat in the harbor near what is now Battery Park.

"One night their boat caught fire and they swam ashore. Under the leadership of Adriaen Block four houses were built on the site of No. 41 Broadway. These first houses built on Manhattan Island later became known as 'Block houses,' after their builder. "Next, Block and his men built a new ship in which they explored Long Livengood, Mayor-elect and Chairman of the Borough Planning Committee. Mayor Yates said that the planning engineers had worked hard on their project and for the best interests of Hillsdale. He traced briefly the work of the Borough Planning Committee, which was formed during the administration of Mayor Greenin and has kept up its fine work all during the administration of Mayor Yates. The Mayor complimented this group of interested citizens on their work done for the Borough, and in introducing Mr. Livengood he stated: "Here is a man who has been active in the work of the Borough even long before being elected to the Council. It is mainly through his fine work and through that of the Planning Committee that the zoning ordinance became a law and that the plans for the future of Hillsdale have been made and accepted."

Mayor-elect Livengood began his address by giving a quotation from the Old Testament, "The old men shall dream dreams and the young men shall see visions." He stated that this was the keynote used by the few in establishing himself as an international figure in the olden days and was a dominant feature of the success of that race to-day.

Make Visions Realities

"That should be the keynote of every citizen and of citizenship," the Chairman of the Planning Committee continued. This does not mean visionary accomplishments only, nor is it beyond ordinary attainment. The practical man of to-day is one that sees visions. Every great man of history in this country, and in other countries, is the one who has seen visions and has made these visions realities. We, as citizens of Hillsdale, do not want the town to just grow like "Topsy" did, but we do want Hillsdale to grow and prosper. And it was with this in view that the Borough Planning Committee, through its planning consultants, has worked out a master plan for the growth of the Borough along proper lines. Fellow taxpayers, you have on your Borough Planning Committee a group of men who have worked hard, unflinchingly and unselfishly for the welfare of the town. I will not attempt to review the work of this committee, but I just wish to inform you of the type of men with whom I have had the privilege to work.

"If we had allowed the town to grow, without consulting the engineers, the vision of the future Hillsdale would not be so pleasant. Fortunately we have had working with us a group of engineers, men not only known through out the country, but who are international figures in their field. If it was possible at this time to enumerate all the cities, towns and villages which have planned their future through these gentlemen, the list would be long. Mr. Goodrich has just returned from China, where he aided in the planning of the future of the city of Nanking and other large cities in that Republic.

"Here I wish you to hear more of the plans from the engineers. They will present to you their final report and prospectus for the growth of Hillsdale (continued on page 8)

Island Sound, Hell Gate, the North River, and finally returned to Holland. Their trading explorations took them into the Pasack Valley, where it is reported on good authority they spent Christmas Day trading with the Delaware and other Indian tribes.

"Records do not show the exact location of this Christmas trading post, but there are indications that it was some place back of the high cliffs along the west side of the Great North River in what is now Bergen County, N. J., probably in close proximity to the present Boroughs of Hillsdale and Westwood.

"This first American Christmas was far different from our Christmas of 1929. Then there were no paved streets, no electricity, no heated houses, no telephones, no corner drugstores and no banks. The sturdy Dutch pioneers had to guard their trinkets and their furs as best they could. They could not deposit their 'money' in such an institution as the local bank, and know it to be safe. Much as they would have welcomed them, they had no safe deposit vaults, or none of the other conveniences of our modern banks. They had none of the security offered to-day to residents of the Pasack Valley by the local bank. It was a far different Christmas, that first one 319 years ago."

Police Commissioner Is Reprimanded By Judge

Councilman Pavese, of Emerson, Is Severely Criticized In Pearl River Court.

NOW FACES CIVIL SUIT

Curious Episode Started When Orangeburg Man Asked Driving Directions.

When Raymond Lawhead, plasterer, of Orangeburg, lost his way while driving through Emerson on Monday of last week, he stopped to ask directions from F. Pavese, Emerson Police Commissioner, and a chain of consequences followed which ended in the pair bringing counter-charges of assault in Pearl River police court the following morning. Pavese got the short end of the decision and was severely reprimanded by Judge Leon M. Woodworth for his actions.

According to the story as brought out in court, the Police Commissioner if your car's radiator leaks fenders bent or body needs repairing BRING IT HERE ALFRED HEIN Auto Body and Radiator Repair Shop Potter Building—Park Street HILLSDALE, N. J.

thought Lawhead acted in a suspicious manner when he asked to be directed to River Vale Road. So, instead of giving the desired information, he told the man to go to his own home. After arriving there he called Harry Reardon, a friend who resides in River Vale, on the telephone, and asked him to come at once with his car. When Reardon appeared Pavese bundled Lawhead into this vehicle, bringing a rifle, revolver and blackjack with him. Reardon then drove to Westwood and Pavese consulted the police there. He was advised to take Lawhead to Sparkill. On the way Lawhead asked to be taken to a physician for examination, but Pavese refused. Then he asked to be taken to his home, and Pavese consented to this. During all this driving, Pavese kept a gun sticking in Lawhead's ribs. When the home was reached, all three got out of the car. Lawhead then grabbed one of the guns and threw it on the ground. A tussle commenced, and Lawhead's wife and three children rushed from the house and engaged in the melee.

Then Lawhead was hustled into the car again and taken to Police Chief Stern, at Sparkill, who notified Judge Bertrand Leitner, of Piermont. Leitner procured John McKenna, Blauvelt attorney, to act for Lawhead, and set the hearing for Tuesday morning, before Judge Woodworth, at Pearl River. Lawhead was then returned to Westwood, where he was locked up until the time set for the hearing. At court Lawhead, his wife and three children all told their side of the story, and Pavese told his. The Commissioner claimed he had done no more than push Lawhead when he was at the latter's home. The man's peculiar actions warranted the procedure he had followed, he maintained. Pavese said he was just acting the part of a Good Samaritan in looking after Lawhead.

Dr. Edel, of Pearl River, testified for Lawhead and said that an examination disclosed a swollen face, blackened eye and several bruises. There was a question as to whether or not his lower jaw was broken, he said. Judge Woodworth, after hearing the evidence, told Pavese that he had been entirely in the wrong, and administered a severe rebuke to the Police Commissioner.

McKenna announced that he would bring civil action against Pavese on behalf of Lawhead.

MACY BRANCH IS TALKED OF Report Has It That City Store Is Looking for Site In Westwood.

"If any such negotiations are on, I don't know anything about them. Anyway, any announcement would come from our New York offices. I have read about some proposed plans for expansion in the newspapers, but I know nothing about them."

R. H. Macy Company interests, through Frank Livright, the general manager of their Newark department store, the L. Bamberger Company, made this statement this week relative to rumors that the Macy organization is negotiating for a site for the location of a new and modern branch store in Westwood.

According to rumors going the rounds this week, the Macy Company or some other large department store interests are seeking to purchase the property at the northeast corner of Westwood avenue and Broadway. These rumors gained circulation following stories published in the New York newspapers to the effect that the Macy Company, Saks, and the Lord & Taylor Company were contemplating the establishment of branch chain stores throughout the Metropolitan district. It became known two or three weeks ago that some chain store organizations were dickering for the property, which is considered one of the best business locations in Westwood, New Jersey. The site is owned by local capital under the name of Realty Investors, Inc.

ARTEX STUDIO MAKES DEBUT IN WESTWOOD

Marie Haenel and her two young sisters have opened the Artex Studio, at 341 Broadway, near Irvington street, Westwood, where they will specialize in hand decorated fabrics.

The petite trio of girls come from a family of artists, and their father and mother have a studio in New York City. Miss Marie Haenel has had five years experience in the art and is also giving instructions in it to Westwood pupils by the hour, by appointment. The girls have many hand-painted articles appropriate for Christmas gifts.

CONTEMPLATE MOVING INTO NEW BUILDING

A well known business firm on Westwood avenue is contemplating removing its business to the new store in course of construction next door to the Westwood Trust Co. building.

Chester Simon, of Brickell avenue, has the contract for erecting a one-story building on this plot, recently bought by Dr. G. Levitas. The building will be in the shape of an ell extending from the building line on Westwood avenue to the north side of the Westwood Furniture Co. building and then east on a line parallel with the rear of the present store building now occupied by the Westwood Candy Shop. The front of the building will be 14x58 feet, and the rear 24x36 feet, with a basement.

BAND AND MAGICIAN DELIGHT AUDIENCE

A very successful congregational social was held at Westwood Methodist church on Friday evening, December 6. A ventriloquist magician, William Braun, of Jersey City, entertained in a delightful fashion.

Between the first and second halves of the magician's program, Lloyd Harrison, of Kinderkamack Road, played from memory a melody composed of parts from twenty classical and popular selections. The audience endeavored to guess the titles of the pieces played.

Everyone was greatly amused and surprised at the unexpected burlesque on the Tlutsville Band. The band was made up of the following persons: Alfred W. Harrison, bandmaster and bass horn; Charles Lundine, tuba; Winfield Post, slip horn; Frank Johnson, first cornet; Winthrop Harrison, trumpet; Floyd Allen, second cornet; William Beam, French horn; Roland Hullet, alto horn; Franklin Harrison, trumpet.

The costumes and makeup of the band produced considerable laughter. The band rendered (core them apart), the following selections: "Carry Me Back To Old Virginia," "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," "Sweet Adeline," "Marching Through Georgia" and "Pagan Love Song."

The band is open for future engagements. Send all communications to station MEOW.

Community singing followed and refreshments were served by the committee.

STOP! THIS MAKES US FEEL HUNGRY

Harry A. Reed is owner of a plantation in Florida on which are what is said to be the four best acres in the entire South for raising sweet potatoes. They are not the common variety of "sweets" such as most housewives purchase because she cannot get any better, but real delicious golden yellow fellows that just melt in one's mouth and are of a honey sweetness. Mr. Reed, at his new home on North Main street, is enjoying these luscious tubers now, in all the varied forms to which they can be put by a skillful cook, and is feasting like a king; yea, like two kings. He has received a ton of the potatoes from his plantation and a number of his friends have been generously remembered by him, and all add their praises to his, after tasting potatoes that are real sweet potatoes.

SAPPAH HOME IS SCENE OF FRACAS

Ned and George Kalesh and Mrs. Sappah Put Under Bonds to Await Jury.

TWO DIFFERENT STORIES

Struggle Was So Violent That Glass In Door of House Was Smashed.

On complaint of Mrs. Regina Sappah, of Storms avenue, Park Ridge, Ned and George Kalesh have been placed under bonds of $1000 each to await the action of the Grand Jury charged with assault and battery with intent to kill.

The trouble arose over a visit by the Kaleshs to the Sappah home on Sunday of last week, and both parties have given us their version as to what took place at the time.

According to Mrs. Sappah Ned Kalesh came to her home on Sunday, where she was lying on a couch sick, and showed her a letter from her lawyer threatening foreclosure on property sold by her to him some time ago, on which payments and interest are overdue and unpaid. He also spoke of a leaking pipe on the premises. Suddenly Kalesh seized Mrs. Sappah by the hair and arm and vehemently cursed her in Syrian, threatening to burn the house before it would come into her possession. In defense Mrs. Sappah grasped and seized Kalesh's tie. Kalesh's brother joined in the struggle, and also a woman. In the tussle before getting rid of her visitors, the glass in the door of the Sappah home was broken.

Mrs. Sappah was much agitated by the affair and has since been confined to her bed under the care of a physician.

This is Kalesh's story: He went at about 1 o'clock on Sunday to see Mrs. Sappah about a pipe leaking in his house on Magnolia avenue. A girl at the door told him she would see if her mother who was sick would see him; that she was lying down at the time. He entered and found Mrs. Sappah lying on a couch. He said he was sorry to bother her, but the pipe was leaking and needed attention. She asked why he did not have it fixed, and after a few words rose up and seized him by the neck, saying she would murder him before he left the house. He asked "What is the trouble?" and warned her off, but was careful not to push enough to make a mark on her neck. He tried to get out of the room, but the door was closed and she would not let him out. Finally he got the door partly open and called for help. His brother and sister-in-law heard him and ran to the porch. Mrs. Sappah opened the door and slapped the brother in the face. Kalesh saw how nervous she was, so he pulled away, and his tie which she grasped was torn off in her hand. Mrs. Sappah then cursed them in both English and Syrian languages. The Kaleshs then started out to find an officer, going to the police booth, Officer Bower's home, Justice Brown's, and finally to Chief Salimone's home. From there Recorder Cole was reached, who said he would be down shortly. While there Officer Bower telephoned Salimone to rush over to the Recorder's, as Kalesh and Mrs. Sappah were having trouble. The Recorder directed the Kaleshs brought to him, and ordered them put under arrest. They asked what the trouble was and were told to shut up. They said they were looking for officers to have Mrs. Sappah arrested, but the Recorder would not take their complaint. Mrs. Sappah told her side of the story and the Kaleshs pleaded not guilty to her complaint. They were held under $1000 bail each, to await the action of the Grand Jury, John Sullivan, of Montvale, becoming their bondsman. They were also assessed $3.70 costs each. Later the Kaleshs made complaint against Mrs. Sappah, in Hackensack, and she has also been put under bond. Lawyer N. D. Demarest, of Hackensack, has been retained to look after the Kaleshs' interests.

SUNDAY MOVIES TO BE VOTED ON

Westwood Council Passes Motion of Com. Ray After Bitter Words By Vote of 4 to 3

POLLING TO BE ON 27th

Committee of Two Appointed To Arrange for Vote At No Cost To Borough.

A bombshell was thrown into the works last week by Police Commissioner Herbert H. Ray when a resolution introduced by the popular Councilman and seconded by Councilman Bratt, caused the Westwood Borough Council to reverse its former position on Sunday movies and agree to submit the ordinance governing Sunday movies to a referendum at a special election to be held on December 27, without cost to the Borough.

The vote favoring the referendum passed by 4 to 3. Mayor Ruckner casting the deciding vote, while Councilman-elect Fred Walker looked on, surprised visitor getting a glimpse at the workings of the official body in which he will have a part after the New Year. In fact, Mr. Walker, Mayor-elect Ringrose and Councilman-elect Gus Meyer were committed to the referendum, with that as a part of the platform of the Republican Borough ticket on which they were elected last month, and it was therefore expected that the new Council would battle over the pledged referendum on the Sunday movie question instead of the present Council.

So the surprise was great, when, after a dull hour of detail routine business, Commissioner Ray exploded his bombshell. In fact it was not only a surprise but a shock to Councilman Demarest, who in giving vent to his feelings in the matter said he thought Mr. Ray had "some nerve" to revive the Sunday movie question at this time. Mayor Ruckner's face flushed at the report of Mr. Demarest's verbal outburst and countered: "That's just like you—you have only a one-track mind. Remember, we're not in Russia—" and thus continued the Mayor to explain that the referendum is for the purpose of obtaining an expression from the people whom the Council represents.

The Mayor made it plain, as did other members who voted for the special election, that it was not an expression of their personal feelings for or against Sunday movies; in fact the Council members have gone on record individually as personally opposed to Sunday movies, but that does not represent the expression of the people and the Mayor feels it a duty of the Council to permit the people to express themselves on the Sunday ordinance and the Council be guided by the majority of the voters.

Councilman Bratt and Ray upheld the referendum and said, in effect, that they did not feel the present Council should shift responsibility of the matter to the new Council, that the people had expressed their faith in Borough government by voting down the proposed Commission Form sponsored by H. H. Goodwin, and which placed the cost of Westwood taxpayers $1000, and furthermore, at the November election had given the Republican candidates pledged to the referendum a large majority. Mr. Ray said the question will never die until the people have an opportunity to vote on it, and Mr. Bratt saw no reason why the Council should "crum the ordinance down their throats."

Councilman Behrman expressed himself in favor of a vote on the direct question, yes or no, on Sunday movies, and it was pointed out that such a vote could not be taken as the State law governs that, whereas the referendum should be on the question of whether or not the people of Westwood want the ordinance making it a $200 fine to open a motion picture house on Sunday to stand, or have the Council repeal the ordinance. Should the ordinance be repealed, it was pointed out, that does not mean that Westwood of necessity would have Sunday movies. The State law governing motion pictures and the law enforcement officers would have the right to step in and enforce the State statute, which, however, imposes only a nominal fine of $2 for its violation.

Councilman Trimble expressed his views at length in opposition to the referendum and presented an argument, contending that the Council had put the Sunday ordinance on the statute books a long time ago and he thought it late in the day to rescind it or ask for an expression of the people.

The vote on the referendum in response to the roll call by Clerk Best, was as follows:
Trimble, no; Harrison, no; Ray, yes; Demarest, no; Bratt, yes; Behrman, yes; Mayor Ruckner, yes.

A similar vote was recorded in favor of holding the special election on December 27, and Mayor Ruckner accepted the chairmanship of a committee, with Commissioner Ray to arrange for the election free of any expense to the Borough.

Commissioner Ray said he felt there were plenty of citizens who would volunteer their services free of cost to the Borough and assist in conducting the election.

Police Examination To Be Held On December 28

Police Commissioner H. H. Ray today announced that an examination for Patrolman will be held at Westwood Borough Hall on December 28, 10:30 A. M. The examination is for the purpose of selecting one or more patrolmen to be added to the Westwood police force after the New Year.

Applicants for the job must have been residents of Westwood for two or more years, citizens between the ages of 21 and 35.

BIG SEWER BOND ISSUE IS TAKEN

State Sinking Fund Dept. Bid of 5% Accepted By Borough Council.

VERY BUSY SESSION

Collector's Bond May Be Increased—2 Police Officers To Attend State School.

The sewer bond issue of $250,000 and the $55,000 in temporary sewer bonds, recently authorized, were sold on Tuesday of last week by the Westwood Borough Council to the State Sinking Fund Department at an offer of 5 per cent, made before the Council had occasion to advertise the issue.

Members of the Council felt that the 5 per cent offer is as low as the bids that might be received at this time, should the Borough go to the expense of advertising them, and the delay that would necessarily follow, and they felt the bonds would be in safe hands in the State Department, the proposition working to the advantage of the municipality in many ways.

The bond for the Borough Tax Collector expires on January 1, and a discussion was had relative to increasing it from $15,000 to $20,000 or $25,000. Councilmen Trimble and Bratt were designated as a committee to investigate the advisability of increasing the bond for the further protection of the Borough.

Chief of Police Lich's report for the month of November enumerates 28 motor vehicle complaints, co-operation with other villages in 11 cases, 7 accidents and 1 robbery.

It was voted to send two officers to the State Police School, instead of one as formerly, the first officer to attend the class starting January 8, and the second, the class beginning February 12. The expense of attending the school is borne by the State, except that Westwood will be obliged to engage two officers for duty in the Borough to replace the pair while they are attending the school.

Change Taxi Stand

A further change was made in the taxi stand at the instance of Commissioner Ray. Space was assigned for five cabs on the west side of Broadway from the Erie station door south to the rear line of the Westwood Trust Co. building, and a relief stand for three additional cabs will be established north of the Park Ridge bus stop.

Road Commissioner Behrman reported that the cold weather had necessitated a halt to curb improvements in the Borough, but all the important work near the new school and other sections of the town had been accomplished.

Change Fire Attendance Rule

Commissioner Ray sponsored a resolution adopted, to the effect that any fireman attending 60 per cent, of the fires as shown by his attendance record shall be entitled to pay heretofore given for 66 2-3 per cent., the act to take effect immediately. It was pointed out that the many fires recently have kept the firemen busy, and Mayor Ruckner said the New Jersey State Firemen's Association works on a 60 per cent. basis also.

Fire Chief Hoey presented the long list of firemen that made the 66 2-3 per cent. rating and therefore entitled to the annual pay of $25. A number of firemen were reported eligible for $2 per month for the past seven months, and the pay checks for the entire list were ordered sent to them by Clerk Best.

A petition was received from the Woman's Club asking for permission to use the Pascock Theatre for the Christmas sing on December 22. Application was received for gas station at Kinderkamack Road and Lake street by Albert Schwartz.

Hackensack Water Co. is to extend water mains on Kinderkamack Road north of Maple avenue, for Michael McGee.

An invitation from Hose Co. No 1 asked the Mayor and Council to attend the Christmas dinner on December 16, in the Fire House.

A letter from the Board of Freeholders requested that applications for

Must Clean Sidewalks

Commissioner Ray said he had received three complaints regarding the sidewalk of Tassini's, which is on Center avenue. He asked if he is supposed to enforce the ordinance if people disregard cleaning their walks.

Interest on sewer assessments amounting to $5704.83 was reported collected and is to be transferred to General Borough Account, as reported by Councilman Trimble.

James E. Demarest asked that check for $2000 on account of the budget item for the library be sent to the trustees. Mr. Trimble recommended that this be done.

A resolution was adopted increasing the amount of insurance now on the new municipal fire building to $65,000, and on the furnishings to $2500.

JOE'S CHRISTMAS DAY
By Anna Porter Johnson

MY Grandpa says on Christmas Day He wants all sad things put away. The house must be check-full of boys And girls, and games, and fun, and noise.

One time I said to him quite low, "Say, Grandpa, may I bring lame Joe?" In all his life, I heard Joe say, "He's never had a Christmas Day!"

Grandpa just squeezed my hands so tight, And shut his eyes like it was night, And then a tear rolled down his cheek—I guess my Grandpa's eyes are weak.

"Why, bless your heart, of course you may!"

"I'll give him a great Christmas Day! Letting all the girls and boys you know, And don't forget to bring lame Joe!" When I told Joe, his face got red And white, and then he rubbed his head And blinked his eyes and shook all through.

He couldn't think 'twas really true. But when we got to Grandpa's—say, Joe surely had a Christmas Day! My Grandpa knows nice things to do— He said he'd be Joe's Grandpa, too!

THE PROBLEM

Every little girl goes through a spell of playing house. The problem is to keep her that way after the wedding.—Rutland Herald

The boys and girls of the eight grade of Park Ridge school have done an excellent piece of work in getting the census of all boys and girls in town under 21 years of age, and the hel that had been given them by the people in general is greatly appreciated. There were some parents who did not understand that this is a State census, and in a very few cases the boy and girls were not cordially received but the great mass of Park Ridge people were helpful and courteous to the inquiring ones.

In some towns the Boards of Education employed adults to make the canvass, but with the information which Park Ridge Board now has on hand gathered by the eighth grade pupils a no expense to the people, there are few if any districts where any better work has been done.

HERE AND THERE

By L. F. GARCIN

With all the windows of all the stores decorated for the Yuletide, and everybody wishing their friends a "Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year," the time has arrived for this columnist to break into poetical phraseology, or so he should if he must keep up with the "Spirit of Christmas."

'Twas the night before Christmas, And all through the house, Not a creature was stirring, NOT EVEN THE SOUSE.

The stockings were hung by the Chimney with care In hopes that ma and pa would remember

And leave priceless articles there. (Must be modern and keep up with the times—or else some small child would say tauntingly to me, "Don't you know that there ain't no Santa Claus.")

And all of a sudden Slight bells were heard, By the head of the house Who had turned "Snowbird."

(For those who don't know and are not familiar with our American "slang," snowbird is a colloquial expression for "dope" fender.)

Up dashed papa, from his downy couch, Rushing around like a beggar. Then he got dressed, went downstairs And let in the family bootlegger.

"Sorry," said the liquor dealer, "I did my best to try, But all I could get you Was just Scotch and Rye."

"And now the fun would begin—at the consumption of his wares." "I'm afraid that will not do, Now I must stop and ponder, For ABSINTHE at this time of year Makes the heart grow fonder."

Christmas spirits we must have Our family must suffer no blotch, Company we'll have to entertain, So bring up a case of Scotch

Then Christmas morn came. As all mornings must. And friends and family drank and drank, 'Til they stretched out in the dust. (Happier ending to a happy day.)

Up rushed ambulances. Carted all away, "Oh, gosh! what a head," All said next day.

And with the above effusion off my mind, thoughts seem to come clearer. There's a song they sing down home called "My Old Kentucky Home."

They have consumed too much of the "white lightning" or as it is called now, "Christmas Spirits."

Enough of this sodden and "all wet" propaganda. Back to earth and let fancy fly free once more.

A "fall" comes out of the head of a tadpole, not a story (as you printed in the paper). Ha! Ha! I didn't think that this pun was over your head.

The other day I had enjoyed an afternoon of bridge, and was hurrying home just at dark, realizing the family was ready for attention, as the dinner hour was approaching.

All joking aside—I had a bad fall and was relieved when the occupants of a passing car very kindly picked me up and took me to my home in safety.

There's the Scotch side of the lady showing up again, thinking about her ruined stockings, and not giving a thought to bodily injuries.

I wonder just what she will want to be next week. It seems that she could aspire to larger things in this world, a cow for instance.

Now it's time for the Man-About-Town to have his say—This week he notices that Doc. Stewart is contemplating the purchase of a new car.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Woodemann were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Margraff, of Westwood.

Celebrates Birthday
James, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James Nutt, of Conklin avenue, celebrated his eighth birthday on Monday. A number of young friends gathered at his home after school, to help celebrate the occasion. As the guests arrived James was thrilled, opening care wrapped packages, their gifts. The afternoon was spent playing "They put the shoes on darkey Sambo"—Bernard Slater took the prize for this contest; then all enjoyed a game of table croquet, and Irene Lyons was clever, winning this game. Irene also took the prize for the game of Lotto, which held the interest of all the youngsters.

All selected partners and had a grand march round the house. Mrs. Nutt was at the piano, marching them to the diningroom, which was decorated with Christmas hangings of bells, holly, and red streamers. The table was very attractive with two huge birthday cakes holding places of honor at each end, and red candles gaily burning. Following the serving of a delicious repast including all sorts of sweets and "goodies," each child received a box of colored paints, whose contents proved to be all in solid chocolate, wrapped in colored papers. Among those present were: Donald, Kevan and Phyllis Walsh, Billy and Buddy Pause, Bernard and Nancy Slater, Howard and Arthur Walsh, Robert, Junior and Irene Lyons, with the guest of honor, "Jimmy Lad."

Three Legs of Deer Broken In Crash
Officer Butterfield, of the Westwood Police Department, was obliged to shoot a deer last Saturday night to end its agony, the fleet footed animal having suffered three broken legs when a car crashed into it on the Ridgewood road, in Washington Township.

The accident happened at 11 P. M., when the doe crossed the path of a swift moving car driven by Albert van der Horn, of Ridgewood. Other passengers in the car included Garry van der Horn, Harry Faulkner and Garry Bush, of Midland Park. Fortunately the young men escaped injury and they drove the police booth in Westwood and reported the accident.

After the doe was destroyed, Game Warden A. J. Ruth, of Woodcliff Lake, was notified, and he disposed of the dead animal.

SANITARY
A small boy who was sitting close to a rather fussy woman in a bus kept sniffing in a most annoying way. Finally the woman declared:

"Boy, have you a handkerchief?"
The small boy looked at her for a few seconds with withering dignity and then replied:
"Yes, I have, but I don't lend it to strangers."

This Week

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

Secretary Lamont reports to President Hoover that Christmas buying is more active this year than last.

Mourful victims of the Wall Street earthquake do not include all the population.

Nothing is wrong with this country or its industrial organizations and stocks, honestly issued.

A gambling craze that included millions of ignorant speculators and tens of billions of dollars, plus reckless stock issues, caused trouble. But that will pass. Gambling, like hard drinking, corrects itself. The gambler becomes bankrupt, the drinker dies.

Since men have existed, their main business has been to collect information and convey it from their own minds to the minds of other men, and this process has gradually brought about civilization.

Very ancient gentlemen wrote what they had to say on bricks, in strange characters, and baked the bricks.

The Egyptians made hieroglyphics on monuments, with strange, angular men and birds and other animals. They would have been horrified by the typewriter, "so unartistic" and hasty.

The Phoenicians invented our short alphabet. The Chinese cling to their alphabet of 5000 characters and more.

Then shorthand came, and the telephone, and radio, and pours information through the ether, into every ear.

Now comes most interesting of all, the newsreel theatre, on Broadway, New York, where pictures, moving and talking, show the news of the day.

The newsreel theatre, crowded before 12 o'clock in the morning, many standing in the rear, showed recently young soldiers of Switzerland drilling with wonderful precision. Knowing that every man in Switzerland has military training, taught to command as well as to obey, you realize why other nations let the Swiss alone.

There will be such newsreel theatres in every city soon.

From hieroglyphics in stone to pictures of yesterday's events moving and talking before your eyes, is one of the longest steps that civilization and science have ever taken.

Germany's Lufthansa, ablest commercial flying organization in the world, is pushing its lines into Asia and South America.

And intelligently Germany lends Lufthansa $1,500,000 to help.

If Germany after the war, compelled every year to pay hundreds of millions in gold to the Allies, can afford $1,500,000 to support one commercial aviation undertaking, what could the rich United States do, if it had the intelligence to do it.

Frederick H. Ecker, head of Metropolitan Life Company, lends former Governor Smith of New York twenty-seven and a half million dollars to build a gigantic office building and tower on the site of the old Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The loan interests millions of policy holders, who have made a good loan, and interests the nation because the new building will have at the top a mooring mast to anchor dirigible airships, something never done before in a great city.

Fessimists say the mooring mast will not be a success. They always say that of anything new.

Mr. Ecker undoubtedly will back up Governor Smith in his mooring mast idea.

While Ecker and Smith are still young and active, they will see passengers go up that mooring mast, get into an airship and start for Europe or the Pacific Ocean from the corner of Thirty-fourth street and Fifth avenue.

Somebody, supposed to be an expert, says the United States will manufacture in 1930 one million fewer automobiles than in 1929.

That prediction, probably mistaken, is not creditable to the people's intelligence.

Many things a family can do without, but no family is properly organized without a good automobile.

When one is worn out it should be replaced. When a better automobile appears, and a car can afford a better one, it should be got.

Automobiles mean saving time, consequently longer real life. A man who can "get along without an automobile" is one whose time and life are not worth much.

Bids for the Presidential yacht Mayflower are all rejected, because too low, including a bid from New York. That city felt it could afford to run the Mayflower, receiving distinguished guests, getting up little water parties, etc., even if Uncle Sam could not afford it.

Mayor Walker, if elected President, is a young gentleman who would probably say, if he felt that way, "Fix me up a yacht. Mr. Hoover thought it cost too much. But I don't agree with him, and I'm President now." Stranger things have happened.

SEAL RACKETEERING REPORTED IN COUNTY

Racketeering in Christmas Seals has been reported by several persons to the office of the Bergen County Tuberculosis and Health Association, which is the sole agent of National and State Tuberculosis Associations in Bergen County. The Tuberculosis Christmas Seal, although formerly sold by the Red Cross, is the sole property in the United States of the National Tuberculosis Association and its 1400 affiliated State, County and community organizations.

The seal this year has the design of a bell with a mediaeval bell ringer and bears the message, "Health Greeting, 1929." It has been widely distributed by mail in Bergen County, and it may be purchased from the local chairmen in each town or at the offices of the Bergen County Tuberculosis and Health Association, 266 Main street, Hackensack, N. J.

ROTARIANS FORM XMAS COMMITTEE

The Hillsdale Rotary Club at its regular meeting this week, was not entertained by the usual interesting speaker and the session was devoted to business, including the forming of a committee under Rev. H. N. Smith to cooperate with other organizations in providing for the needy at Christmas. The large group of members present was addressed for a few minutes by ex-President Demarest, who spoke on loyalty to the club, and urged the members to support President Davis in order that the local Rotary might perform constructive work on a larger scale.

Signifies Condensation

"Tabloid" originally meant a preparation of drugs in concentrated form. The term was coined in Great Britain. Today the term is used in America to designate something concise and condensed, such as tabloid newspapers and tabloid reviews.

WOODCLIFF LAKE FINANCES SOUND

$1700 BALANCE LEFT

Several Roads in Borough, Also Bridges, May Be Widened Next Year.

Finances engaged the attention of the Woodcliff Lake Borough Councilmen when they met Monday of last week. It was the last regular session for the year and final touches had to be put to money matters.

There were bills amounting to $556.97 for monthly expenses. After that came the matter of issuing a temporary improvement certificate for four months for $1600, to take care of the Summit avenue sidewalk and curb improvement; for the Glen Road improvement there was a six months note for $5768.32; To take care of expenses of the recent gas ordinance $462.62 had to be provided; For acquisition of land to round the corners on County roads $5704.61 was secured. There was also a tax revenue note for $4500 ordered placed in the bank for six months.

Notes that aggregated $13,512.93, with interest amounting to $427.55 were ordered paid. A road improvement bond of 1922 for $4000 and an improvement certificate for $500 for the Prospect avenue improvement, with interest on both for $450, were paid.

Park Ridge Borough came in for $500 for fire protection for the past six months, and the Board of Education was given $999.55. There was also the authorization to transfer $531.88 from a Trust Fund to the Current Account.

A check for $10,424.66 was drawn for payment of the final installment of the State and County tax, to be delivered to the County Collector when it becomes due.

Woodcliff Lake finances are in fine condition. There is an unexpended balance of about $1700 on hand, and the excess revenue received amounts to $5508. Besides this, the Borough's finances have been so well managed and the budget was so carefully compiled there is money left in every account, and it was not necessary to transfer any money from one account to another to make up deficits. This is a very unusual condition among municipalities, and a very gratifying one.

The receipts reported included $15 from rent of the Borough Hall, $5.43 from the Transportation Company for fees.

Report was made that during the first eleven months of this year 18 patients were cared for at Hackensack Hospital, from Woodcliff Lake. Of these, 11 were in the public ward and 7 were private patients. This made it evident that the institution has done much more for the residents than is paid for by the annual appropriation, and there was no hesitation on the part of the Councilmen in voting $300 to the hospital. They also voted $100 for the annual community Christmas celebration, which is being sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association.

A letter from the Board of Freeholders, asking what public requirements are likely to be needed the coming year, will be answered by the information that the roadbed of Central avenue, Woodcliff avenue and Weremus Road should be widened; the Eastern Highway should be put through, several corners that were recently acquired for improving County roads need attention, and the bridges over Bear Brook on both Glen Road and Spring Valley Road should be widened.

A petition was presented by nine residents of Oak and Evergreen streets to have the Borough give some attention to these unaccepted roads. The matter was referred to the Road Committee.

Notice was received that the Freeholders will not be responsible for alterations in grades of sidewalks and curbs that the municipality may make without first notifying the Freeholders. This was referred to the Borough Engineer and the chairman of the Road Committee.

Public Service notified the Council that the approach of winter makes it impossible to lay gas mains until the weather moderates, and that the company will begin the work in good earnest about March 1. In the meantime the Borough will make all necessary financial arrangements.

INCORPORATION VOTED DOWN BY PEARL RIVER

The people of Pearl River have decided that they do not want to be incorporated village. After much discussion of late, following spasmodic attempts to bring about incorporation, that has lasted over several years, the question was put to a vote last Wednesday, and was definitely lost by a majority of 56.

The voting was conducted by Town Clerk Mrs. Helen Essex, of Nyack, and Supervisor Howard D. Garner. The result showed that 795 ballots had been cast, and 363 were favorable to incorporation and 425 were opposed. Besides these there were 6 blank ballots.

When the polls closed there were 50 interested spectators anxiously waiting in the polling room, to hear the result. Scarcely a sound was heard except the official declarations. Then the company dispersed without any demonstration—the matter had been definitely settled.

While the agitation for incorporation has been going on there was constantly heard grave fears of the probable cost of becoming a village; voters feared that there would be salaries to pay, that at once there would be sidewalks to lay, and the matter of a possible sewer system was a constant bugbear. The matter of expense no doubt is what swung the election to oppose incorporation.

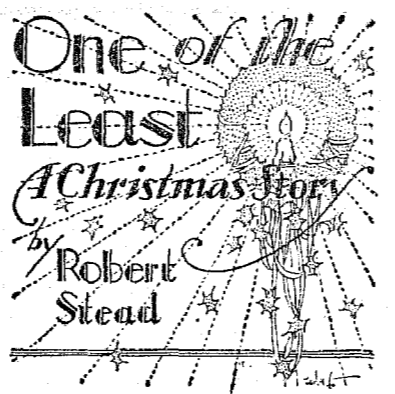

GIVES ADVICE TO WOULD-BE SPEAKERS

William F. Meyer, of the Hackensack "Y," addressed the Park Ridge Rotary Club at its regular noon luncheon last Friday. His subject was "Public Speaking," and he gave several pointers on what to do and what not to do when addressing an audience.

"Never start a talk off by telling your listeners you are unprepared to speak," was one of his admonitions. "If it is true they will find it out soon enough."

The Frustrating Heart
Still not the heart which has received so much, trust the power by which it lives? May it not quit other leadings, and listen to the soul that has guided it so gently, and taught it so much, secure that the future will be worthy of the past?—Emerson.

Briefly Told
It is an ancient saying that labor is the price which the gods have set upon everything valuable.

R. SAMPSON had not noticed that silence had fallen in the outer office. The chitter of typewriters was stilled; the hum of activity had ceased.

"I just thought I'd drop in and say 'Merry Christmas,' Mr. Sampson. Tomorrow's Christmas, you know."

"So it is, Jones, but I don't see anything to be merry about. People buying things they can't afford, and eating more than they can digest. Isn't it so?"

Jones hesitated. Mr. Sampson was a man of strong opinions.

"Well, speak up! If I'm wrong—show me!"

"I think you are wrong, sir, if I may say so. If you'd a little look at kiddies you'd see it differently."

"But I haven't, and that doesn't convince me."

"You see," the head clerk went on, emboldened, "to be happy, any day, you have to think about other people, and that just comes natural at Christmas."

Mr. Sampson was silent for some moments, while he gazed through the window at the dusk settling over the city. When he spoke the crispness of his voice was mellowed.

"To be happy I have to avoid thinking of other people," he said.

Jones felt himself dismissed, and silently withdrew. He knew something of his chief's unhappy love affair, which had left him worse than a widower, and had turned all his great ability toward making money, a pursuit in which he had been particularly successful. But from happiness he seemed to be permanently divorced.

At the door of the office building an hour later Mr. Sampson was confronted by an archway with the challenge, "Buy a paper, sir?" Ordinarily he would have ignored the child, but Jones' injunction, "You have to think of other people," was insistent in his ears. He bought a paper, and, on an impulse, questioned the lad.

"Had your supper?"

"No, sir. I don't get supper 'til I get my papers sold."

"How would you like to come and have supper with me?"

The boy looked his surprise. "You mean it?"

"Yes, I mean it. Come along."

But the boy demurred. "Can't go 'til I sell my papers. This is the best hour, and I got to keep busy." He made a deft sale to a passer-by without interrupting the conversation.

"How many papers have you left?"

"Twenty."

Mr. Sampson counted out forty cents. "I'll buy them all. Now we can go to supper."

He led the puzzled boy across the street. His first thought was his club, but he changed his mind and turned into a cheap but wholesome restaurant. Here he ordered a meal and they ate together. Once convinced that there was no trick about it the boy attacked his food with gusto, while his host looked on with more enjoyment than he had experienced for many a day. By judicious questioning he learned that the boy's name like his own, was George; he lived upstairs at 18 Garrett street; he had a father and mother, an older sister, and a younger brother.

He ventured a more delicate question: "Does Santa Claus come to your house, George?"

"He used to, but dad's been out of work for a long while," he boy replied wistfully.

"And the baby's sick, so mother can't go out to work, and it takes all Jenn and me—and I—can earn just to keep things going."

"I'm sure it does," said Mr. Sampson. "Well, I must get along now. You can go home early to-night."

He parted with the boy, but immediately went to a telephone. "Hello, is that Doctor Morgan? Frank, I want you to run out at once to 18 Garrett street, upstairs. There's a sick child there. Take him to a hospital, see that he has everything he needs, and send the bill to me."

"I'll run right out," said the doctor. "Merry Christmas, George."

"Merry Christmas, Frank!" Mr. Sampson replied. And, as he hung up the receiver, he wondered at the new ring in his voice.

NO CHANCE OF MONTVALE GAS

Public Service Survey Shows That Income Would Be Entirely Inadequate.

The report of Councilman Nusz, of the special committee relative to gas installation in Montvale, made at the Borough Council meeting of that town held last Thursday evening, dismissed the hope of anything in that line being secured there for the present.

A survey made by the Public Service Corporation showed that the cost of installation of 38,354 feet of mains, which would cover practically the whole Borough except Chestnut Ridge and Upper Saddle River Roads, in all about 7½ miles, would require an investment of $93,645, from which to receive a worthwhile income the return should be $46,000, whereas the yield from 309 prospective customers would be only $12,129, which makes the investment prohibitive at the present time.

A bill of $75 from the Brightside Sanitarium, at Tenneck, for care of Mrs. Frances Pulis, a blind inmate of that institution, from November 4 to December 3, together with an agreement that a sum heretofore available from her estate is almost exhausted, and information that the Sanitarium will look to the Borough to pay for Mrs. Pulis' maintenance, came up for consideration. Mayor Murray stated that he had been asked to sign a formal commitment for Mrs. Pulis, which he refused to do, and had insisted that an accounting be made of Mrs. Pulis' financial affairs. After some delay this had been secured, showing that in 1927 Mrs. Pulis' ½ acre property at Upper Montvale had been sold for $2000, out of which $650-75 had gone to meet various bills, and the balance had been paid out at $75 per month in board. The total had been reduced to $270.25, out of which Mrs. Pulis had asked that a sufficient burial fund be held intact.

Charles J. Hopper, former Poor Master of the Borough, had handled Mrs. Pulis' affairs, but there was some doubt as to whether he had done so through court appointment, or voluntarily, and there appeared to be no record of the Borough having in any way taken cognizance of Mrs. Pulis as a charge, or authorizing Mr. Hopper as Poor Master to do so.

Mrs. Pulis is now over 90 years old. At the time of the sale of her property a physician stated that he considered six months more would be her limit of life, and the amount received was then considered sufficient to meet her expectancy of life. Mrs. Pulis is said to have a daughter living in Spring Valley, whom it was thought was able and should provide for her. The Sanitarium will be informed that the Borough is not liable for the lady's support, and the matter referred to the Borough Attorney.

Incidentally, it was stated that the Sanitarium had threatened to deliver Mrs. Pulis at the Mayor's home in an ambulance, unless its demands were met.

A total of $223.07, mostly polo, automobile and personal taxes, or of persons deceased or removed from town, was ordered cancelled, deemed uncollectible.

A warrant of $169.01 was directed paid to Gustaf Markowitz, a refund for taxes paid for a number of years on property assessed in Montvale, but lying in adjoining municipalities, on Collector Lewis' certifying to the amount due.

Building Inspector Gray reported permits issued for one dwelling, two additions and one chicken building.

The ordinance for acceptance of Myrtle street was received from Council, but the accompanying map was not entirely satisfactory, and will have to be completed. Hence no present action.

Recorder White's final report was made, and he stated his docket had been audited by the State Motor Vehicle Department. He also praised Officer Emerick and the Borough Marshals for the co-operation given him. The Borough's equity in the Lenora D. Howth property was directed transferred to the Atlas Service Corporation, for the amount due—about $250. County and State taxes due this week were ordered paid. The Collector reported results of the 1928 tax sale.

The Road Committee reported repairs to Akers avenue, and on Upper Saddle River Road, including taking top off red rock ledge. Several cinder applications had been made at various points. The same arrangement as last year had been made for snow removal.

Formally given D. H. Atkins to open Fairview avenue for connecting his plant with Park Ridge water mains was ratified by unanimous consent, and it was made a part of the record. Mr. Atkins will be notified of the action and further that the Council understands that he or the company in charge, in consideration of this option, agree to the Borough's right to purchase the 6-inch line at cost of installation if in the future it sees fit to do so. There was a divided vote on this motion, Messrs. Foxlee, Nichols, Scott and Serrell, in favor; and Messrs. Akers and Nusz opposed. The latter gentlemen disagreed only because they thought depreciation should be provided for, if the purchase was made.

Adjournment was made to Monday, December 30, when final accounts will be adjusted.

The Mayor and all Councilmen attended the meeting.

"Foreigners" in Polynesia

The Polynesians imagine that the sky descends at the horizon and encloses the earth. Hence, they call foreigners "papalangi," or "heaven-burst-ers," as having broken in from another world outside.

Key to Life

We know that the secret of the world is profound, but who or what shall be our interpreter, we know not. A mountain ramble, a new style of face, a new person, may put the key into our hands.—Emerson.

CHRISTMAS FORESIGHT

She—I suppose you're looking forward to Christmas?
He—Am I? I'm looking away beyond it—that's when the bills fall due.

Burning the Yule Log

The custom of burning the Yule log on Christmas eve is not prevalent in England. The custom is still followed in some of the rural sections. It is more prevalent in the Scandinavian countries.

Enjoying Christmas

When one is very young and when one is very old one may enjoy Christmas; things look so different viewed from a perambulator or a bath chair.—The Tattler.

A Parasite Shrub

Probably the height of distillation in his day was when Mr. Webster defined mistletoe as "a parasite shrub."

Bald Eagles Slaughtered

The American bald eagle is said to be in danger of extinction. There has been an estimated total destruction of at least 70,000 American bald eagles in Alaska since the Alaska eagle bounty law went into effect in 1917. Bounties have been paid on 47,812 eagles.

Strong Organs

The heart is man's strongest organ. The power it exerts in a year is sufficient to lift a cruiser out of the water. Next comes the jaw. The power exerted in eating and talking would lift 4,000 tons a foot high.

THE PRINCE of PEACE

In every new-born little child,
In every soul that finds the light,
In every truth that comes to men,
In every conquest of the night,
In every sigh of human love
That comfort brings to hearts forlorn,
Again the angels wake their songs,
Again the Prince of Peace is born.
And they who hope, and work with cheer,
And bear in patience what they meet,
And wait for sorrow's far-off fruit,
And fill their lives with lovely trust—
Their eyes made clear from films of sin,
By faith's pure love, and love's necessity,
Shall always see the star that lights
The birthplace of the Prince of Peace.
And they whose loving wills are one
With that great life which is the law,
All round about their feet shall shine
A light that eyes never saw;
And they whose childish child-like hearts,
And keep their natures fresh as mine,
Shall every day hear angels sing,
"Today the Prince of Peace is born."

Woman as Santa Claus

The little children of Italy do not have a Santa Claus. Instead La Beata fuca, a kindly, homely old woman, comes, bringing them presents, the night before Epiphany, January 6, when the Wise Men brought their gifts to the baby Jesus.

A Christmas Greeting

A Merry Christmas morning
To each and every one!
The rose has kissed the dawning,
And the gold is in the sun.
And may the Christmas splendor
A joyous greeting bear,
Of love that's true and tender,
And faith that's sweet and fair

Councilman Cole—Mayor-elect—returned home last Thursday night, after a European trip in the interest of the Mittag & Volger factory.

The Rickard family has moved from Spring Valley Road, where for the past two and one-half years it made its home. Mr. Rickard was seriously sick last summer and his physician advised a change of location.

A resident who keeps close tabs on the weather conditions is authority for the statement that up to the present time our section has had as much real cold weather as we did up to the first of February, 1928. Other good estimates from local dealers confirm this statement as being correct.

The Italian-American Social Welfare Club at the annual election on Friday evening of last week chose these officers for 1930: President, L. Ferraglio; Vice President, John Fanni; Corresponding Secretary, S. Cattaneo; Financial Secretary, A. DePiero; Treasurer, C. Caressi; Trustee; J. Bielli; Sentry, P. Binovi; Warden, J. Passini.

The last school inoculation for prevention of diphtheria was given last Tuesday. There are a very few pupils who did not receive the three inoculations and these children should go to their own or the School Physician for the remaining treatments. It should be understood that the parents are personally responsible for the expense of such services not rendered by the school.

It has been decided by the Public Safety Committee of the Borough Council to take extra precautions to guard the center of town, especially the bank and postoffice, during the holiday season, by placing Chief Salomon on constant duty at the police booth. His former position at the public school is being taken by Special Officer Abele, except that the Chief is on duty there when school is dismissed in the afternoon.

Rauber-Faatz

A brilliant wedding took place on Wednesday, Dec. 11, when Miss Gladys Muriel Faatz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Faatz, of 325 Broadway, Westwood, became the bride of Walter H. Rauber, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rauber, of Washington avenue, Hillsdale.

The ceremony was performed at the bride's home, by Rev. J. F. Gassmann, pastor of the Lutheran church. L. Goddard, of River Edge, played the Wedding March. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Preceding the ceremony, Jack Williams, of Woodcliff Lake, sang, "I Love You Truly."

William Rauber, of Hillsdale, brother of the groom, was best man. The house was tastefully decorated with palms, ferns, white carnations and white chrysanthemums, supplied by Bruce Dean.

The bride was charmingly attired in a beautiful gown of ivory satin, very long in back and slightly shorter in front, tight waist, with about an inch of fine silk net tulle at the bottom. The simplicity of her gown is what made it more attractive. Her veil, which was extremely long and cap shaped, was caught up with orange blossoms. She wore a necklace of pearls, and white satin slippers completed her attire. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and sweet peas.

Mrs. Gustave Roy, of Westwood, was maid of honor. Her gown was of Nile green moire, similar in style to that of the bride. She wore silver slippers and stockings to match. Her bouquet was of Ophelia roses.
The bride's mother was becomingly gowned in coral colored taffeta, made with a flare skirt and a large bow at the side. She wore a corsage of sweet peas.
A reception followed at Pine Lodge, in Washington Township, where about 50 guests participated at a delicious repast.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a platinum ring set with emeralds and diamonds. The bride's gift to her husband was a topaz ring with a dark green setting, and to her maid of honor a platinum bracelet. Mr. Rauber's gift to his best man was a white gold ring set with a ruby.
The couple left on their honeymoon to parts unknown, and upon their return will reside in a newly furnished apartment on Broadway.

Mr. and Mrs. Rauber are both popular in social activities and have a host of friends. Mr. Rauber is employed by the Nash-Westwood Co., while his bride is employed in a New York City office.

Pearl River

Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Cabel, of Spring Valley, formerly of Pearl River, are the proud parents of a son—Floyd Sydney—born December 6.

A Christmas sing given by the P. T. Association of the High School will be held at the auditorium on Sunday afternoon, December 22, at 3 o'clock. Everybody is welcome to join in the songs.

Joseph A. Fisher and William M. Evans prominent business men of Pearl River, are contemplating a trip to Texas some time after the holidays. The exact date has not been fixed, but they expect to leave early in January.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parker, of Seven street are proudly announcing the birth of a daughter born at Nyack Hospital on Monday, December 8. Both mother and daughter are doing nicely.

Little Florence Foerter, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franz Foerter, of Orangeburg Road, met with her second accident this year when badly cut about the eye while coasting downhill. She is recovering favorably under the care of Dr. R. L. Hess, of Westwood.

Mrs. Harold Behrens, of Bayonne, formerly Miss Carrin Lundgren, is assisting at the postoffice during the Christmas rush. Her many friends who regretted her leaving, were delighted when they saw Mrs. Behrens back in her accustomed place.

Sue Hastings marionette show, given at the school auditorium on Tuesday afternoon and evening, was attended and enjoyed by over 900 adults and children, who declared the performances as being wonderful. The P. T. Association, for whose benefit the show was given, was greatly pleased, and expressed its appreciation through the Welfare Chairman, Mrs. Arthur A. Gabel, for the support given by neighboring schools and residents of the town.

The Chatter and Stitch Club enjoyed a turkey dinner on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Albert L. Preston, of North Main street. Eighteen persons were seated at tables beautifully decorated with Christmas greens, the centerpiece being a crepe paper chimney with Santa Claus coming over the top. Red paper basket favors also adorned the table. Music and singing were enjoyed after dinner. Those present were: Mrs. Nettie VanFleet and son Harold, Mr. and Mrs. George Springsteen, Mr. and Mrs. David Neer, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Post, Mrs. Albert J. Slade, Jr., Mrs. Wesley Slade, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Feise, Miss Gene Tuttle, Mrs. Frank Säckles, Mrs. Dora Bradshaw, Mrs. Charles Cooper, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Preston.

A short address was given by Carl Holman at a special assembly of the school on Wednesday morning, before introducing Thomas Dexter, who made a presentation of gold balls to the champion football players of the school.

Mr. Holman spoke briefly of Mr. Dexter's promise to raise funds to purchase the souvenirs, at the time he made a presentation to the baseball champions of the school, should the championship again be won by this school, to which Mr. Holman stated he was very thankful that Mr. Dexter had so willingly fulfilled his promise. He also spoke of the championship as becoming a habit for the Pearl River school. Mr. Dexter thanked Mr. Holman for his kind expression, congratulated the following winners, and presented them with the balls. They were James Allen, Joseph Hoffer, Hector Mariani, captain; Kenneth Munkelt, Stephen Martino, Russell Faber, Sam Rizzo, John Plump, Bernard and Daniel Fortmann, Edward Smith, George Harms, William and John Godfrey Berger, Richard Naugle, Frances Gams, manager; and Coach Shuttlesworth. The boys were also presented with letters.

Arthur Hopper, former student of the school and vitally interested in sports, in behalf of himself presented Mr. Holman with a framed picture of the champions as a trophy to be placed in the school library. Hopper spoke of getting together with others throughout Rockland County at the close of sport season and deciding which player was outstanding. He then introduced and presented certificates to the outstanding of all Rockland County teams. From Pearl River were James Allen, quarter back; Sam Rizzo, utility backfield; Hector Mariani, right tackle, whom Hopper considered the best linesman in Rockland County in the past five years; Russel Faber, center; Stephen Martino, left guard; B. Fortmann, left end.
Montgomery Mazer, favored the school by showing a news reel he had taken of the champions during a game. This was also shown later at the Wednesday Noon Luncheon Club.
The school orchestra, under direction of Miss Northrup, rendered the National Honor March, and also accompanied the entire school while singing "Nearer My God To Thee," and "Hustle and Grin." The cheer leaders, with William Nixon as leader, Fred and John Holt, John Zuck and Sam Scarpulla gave a repetition of the cheers given at the games.

CARD GAME CAUSES FIGHT

Negroes Engage In Battle In Hillsdale—One Believed Hit By Auto Spring.

Hillsdale police were called upon to arrest Tim Newkirk, colored, of Lawrence street, on Monday, on complaint of Thomas Newton, also colored, and living on the same thoroughfare. When police arrived on the scene to take Newkirk into custody, Newton told the officers that he would not press the charge of assault and battery. He had first told the police that Newkirk had hit him over the head with an automobile spring. When the complainant refused to press his charge no arrest was made. An investigation conducted showed that the alleged assault took place following a card game, in which Newkirk is said to have lost heavily. It is said that Newton, with several of his friends, took twelve straight games of whist from Newkirk. It was this loss of money, that is believed to have angered Newkirk, police say. Newton did not show any signs of having been battered, police reports show, and the reason for the complainant withdrawing his charge.

VIENNESE SHOP FEATURES MARZIPAN

The Viennese Coffee and Cake Shop, located in the Hemme building, on Broadway, is offering one of the most unique displays of Christmas goods in this section of the County. Many imported candies in various forms and shapes can be seen at this shop, which has also a complete line of cakes, pastries, pies and similar delicacies for the holiday feast.

Marzipan, a rare German delicacy, which is especially used in the Yuletide celebrations, can be had at this store in shapes of fruits, vegetables, fancy waltzing pigs and many other characterizations. Christmas tree ornaments of many varieties and kinds of candies are also on display, but marzipan is a concoction of almond paste.

RIDGE DEBATERS JOURNEY TO CITY

In preparation for their coming debate with Spring Valley High School, to take place after the Christmas holidays, ten members of the Park Ridge High School Debating Society journeyed to the New York Library on Tuesday. The group left early in the morning, accompanied by their coach, Mrs. Skogberg, and spent the entire day, with the exception of a period for lunch, in poring over references in the complete department furnished by the metropolitan institution. The forthcoming debate will be on the subject, "Resolved: That the British Criminal Procedure Shall Be Adopted Throughout the United States." The local team will maintain the negative. The group of debaters who made the trip included Viola Gustafson, Frances Hayes, Ruth Jones, William Saunders, John Zabriskie, Charles Reed, William Hayes, Raymond Slater and Frederick Torp. The debate with Spring Valley will be the first of the Ridgers' contests of the year, and it is expected that an interesting debate will result when the team of New York State invades local territory to avenge last year's defeat at the hands of the Park Ridge orators.

LIVNGOOD RESIGNS AS COMMITTEE HEAD

The resignation of W. W. Livngood as Chairman of the Borough Planning Committee of Hillsdale, was tendered to the Mayor and Council on Tuesday evening. The resignation was accepted by the governing body as Mr. Livngood takes office as Mayor on January 1, 1930. He has not resigned from the committee, only as its chairman. Following the reading of Mr. Livngood's resignation, Councilman Tatem was authorized to pay three notes, a tax anticipation note for $900 at the First National Bank of Westwood, and a temporary loan note for $1800 at the same institution. One note for $4800 at the Hillsdale National Bank was ordered paid. Commissioner Mead, of the Light and Water Committee, was authorized to have a light placed at Hopkins and Buena Vista avenues intersection. There were no other reports from other committees.

TO LIGHT XMAS TREE IN PARK

Provision for the proper lighting of the Christmas tree in the Hillsdale Park by colored electric lights was made by the Borough Council Tuesday evening. With the proper Christmas spirit the governing body has ordered that the tree be decorated as well, as in years past, so that none might miss the usual cheery aspect of the local park during the Christmas season.

PRETENTIOUS SHOW DEC. 31

Pascack Theatre Plans Special New Year's Eve Performance for Entire County.

Entertainment for all of Bergen County will be provided New Year's Eve at the Pascack Theatre, Westwood, according to an announcement by Fox Metropolitan Playhouses. A pretentious midnight show has been arranged, eight big acts having been booked for the stage and several short sound features for the screen. Seats for the New Year's Eve midnight show at the Fox Pascack will all be reserved. Tickets, however, may be bought or reserved at any Fox theatre in Bergen County for the event in Westwood. The Pascack was selected for the midnight show, it was declared, because of the unusually ample stage facilities which that house has for the presentation of vaudeville. Nothing will be undone, according to the announcement, to make the New Year's Eve celebration at the Fox Pascack a long-remembered occasion throughout Bergen County. The eight acts will be of the very best procurable. Merriment will be the main objective. Noisemakers are expected to be supplied to the members of the audience, and a surprise is promised for the stroke of twelve. The midnight show will follow the regular evening performance.

Batch of Smiles

NEW ONE
"Kids," declared Col. Lindbergh, "are getting smarter every day. Not long ago I was visiting a farmer friend of mine when he caught a young mauler in one of his best apple trees. 'Hey, you young rascal,' shouted the farmer. 'What are you doing up there?'"
"Please mister," replied the boy, "I just fell out of my brother's airplane."

CONCEIT
Alice Roosevelt Longworth, during her stormy social career in Washington society, has been the champion of many things and is ever ready to jump to the defense of her sex. Not so very long ago, a handful of intrepid Senators undertook to settle the Longworth-Gann social war with what they considered overwhelming logic.
"Princess Alice" listened to them with a tolerant smile.
"You lay great stress on logic," she remarked. "After all, what is logic? I'll tell you. Logic is just a slow masculine way of arriving at truths known to females by the time they learn to talk."

HUMAN
Some American tourists, during a celebration in Scotland, were enjoying themselves throwing small coins into the River Clyde and watching the young boys dive for the money. They finally ran out of small coins and one man began to throw silver dollars. A policeman ran up to him and said:
"Please don't throw any dollars or you'll have the Mayor and City Council diving too."

SOCIAL ERROR
"Jazz music is all right," declares Ted Lewis, "so long as you don't take all the music out of the jazz. I am afraid that this is done all too often, both to the detriment of music and to jazz."
"A snappy couple were sitting at a table in a New York night club when suddenly there were was a loud crash. 'Come on,' said the man, 'let's dance.'"
"Don't be foolish," she answered, "that wasn't the orchestra. The waiter merely dropped a tray of dishes."

TOUGH
Do men like to shop? It is pretty safe to say that they do not, which doubtless explains why women do four-fifths of the shopping for the entire household. Men haven't the patience to go from store to store looking for bargains.

DISCOURAGING
Little Emily had been to school for the first time.
"Well darling, what did you learn?" asked her mother on Emily's return.
"Nuffin," sighed Emily hopelessly, "I've got to go back to-morrow."

CURIOUS
"I noticed your advertisement in the paper last evening for a man to retail imported canaries."
"Yes," admitted the proprietor, "have you had any experience in that line?"
"Oh no, what I dropped in for was to ask how the canaries lost their tails."

FAVORITE VEGETABLE
Joseph was spending the day with his aunt, who is more indulgent than his mother with his capricious appetites. As his aunt was preparing to cook dinner the lad said: "Be sure and cook my favorite vegetable, auntie."
"What is it to-day?" asked the aunt.
"Doughnuts," was the reply.

CHRISTMAS MEDITATIONS

Christmas. Since dispositions respond cheerfully to eating, the Christmas feast is a source of great merriment and congenial pleasure. The tables fairly groan under their delectable burdens. Men are long at the table, and the table is long before the greatly enlarged family group. Just think of the elaborate plans, the fussy preparations, and all the work done in preparing this feast, and yet there is the world of pleasure from anticipation as well as participation in the great feast. All during the interim from one Christmas to another we can remember the great dinners we either served or enjoyed, and we look forward to the return of the season with great eagerness.

Christmas Is the Time To Express Good Will

Good will has a greater role to play than any other character in the Christmas pageant. You cannot have a good time at Christmas if your heart is heavy with grudges and ill will toward your friends and neighbors. We all try to let the troubles of life pass by at Christmas time or at least we should do so. There were two families in the mountains of Virginia who were what we may call feudists. They never had any dealings with one another during the entire year except while Christmas was being celebrated. Then, they not only spoke to each other, but actually exchanged simple gifts, as a token of their sense of obligation to observe peace during this season which had been inaugurated to establish peace and harmony in the hearts of men the world over. More prejudices are forgotten, social barriers broken down, and friendly reunions effected at Christmas time than this old world dreams of. The song of the angels, "Peace on earth, good will to men," was sung not only over the Judean hills long centuries ago, but is still ringing its tuneful echo in the drawings of the souls of men.

Christmas Is a Time For Celebrating

In accordance with custom there will be a great many elaborate and appropriate observances of Christmas. These will increase the charm and pleasure of the season. Tinsel, shining particles, real snow and artificial snow will transform evergreen trees into things of crystalline beauty. Trimmings will hang in profusion in hall and home. Community trees, attractively illuminated at night, decorated buildings and parks will give the touch of the community spirit all over the land. Sleigh bells and church bells will ring the glorious Christmas chimes, while men and maidens, boys and girls everywhere make merry with hilarious freedom. There will be so much display and external observance that no one will need ask what is the time of the year. Nature will bend to the ornaments of the season and proclaim the joyous festival. Movements will be rapid, noises will be loud, fun and play will run late into the night, and heaven and earth will join together in singing, "It is Christmas, Merry Christmas!"

Christmas Is the Time For Wholesome Thinking

In our minds we ponder what Christmas really is after all. Are there quieter values and truer meanings than those displayed upon the surface? Will they find a time and place to be recognized? And yet, in order to provide peace and refreshment for the soul, can they be enjoyed amid the multitude of other less important indulgences? Will there be a historical reflection upon the panoramic scene of the first Christmas morning? And to be more specific, we wonder how many will have sufficient spiritual insight to see the Wise Men as they come eagerly and yet quietly across the desert expanse bearing their priceless gifts to the Prince of Peace? Will our modern people have a feeling of gratitude to the God of their fathers? How many parents will themselves, tell the real story of the birth of Jesus to their children? Will Christmas send the majority to the "little brown church in the wildwood"? Will the God of the Christ Child be worshipped or will the Gods of selfish indulgence be offered obeisance? These are merely questions, they are not insinuations nor are they answers to themselves. Let us hope that all these questions may be so correctly answered that Christmas may be observed, not only with the outward appearance, but with the inner appreciation as well. Then, and only then, will people be happier and nobler and enabled to enjoy Christmas with no misgivings, that their joy may turn into sorrow, or that the joy of the season is short lived like the dream of a night. It will no longer be necessary for us to look with pathos at the utter abandon of children in their play and sigh at the thought that their fun is not real and will last only so long as they are little and uninformed about real life. Rather, we shall be caused to turn our pity upon ourselves because we are not able the better to share the real happiness of life with our children. This thought is climaxed by the saying of Christ, "Except ye become as little children ye cannot enter the kingdom of heaven." We believe this also implies that a real Christmas cannot be enjoyed unless one believes in the fact, even the blessed fact of the Incarnation, even though the fact depends upon history and spiritual experience for its proof. A Merry Christmas, and What Do We Mean?

Just three words in our familiar salutation. They are very significant, however. What does a Merry Christmas connotate? It should include at least the following: "I hope Santa Claus remembers you generously. I hope the children have a joyful time during this holiday, for this is an institution for children inseparably connected with the Child of Bethlehem, whose love for children is known like a classic. Further, I hope you will enjoy the singing of Christmas carols, and that the decorations you see may be things of beauty. I wish for you the richest monetary blessings from the commercial benefits of Christmas. I trust that the home-comings and the festivities around the family festive may cause you great rejoicing. I hope you will enjoy the art and poetry of Christmas. I hope you will appreciate the pageants and entertainments as well as the worship services of your church during this season so regnant in the Christian's world. I hope that memories of the happy Christmases of past years may gladden your soul like the variegated colors of the sunset glow. I trust that you may enjoy your gifts and your giving, and finally, I wish for you a Christmas with CHRIST in it."

NEED OF JR. HIGH STRESSED

charge. He was instructed by the Board to interview Dr. Stewart, and arrange with him and with Principal George White for the formation of such a clinic.
Principal White in his report stated that an average attendance of 491 was reached for November, one of the best records of attendance ever established in the Hillsdale school. Mr. White also brought out in his report that an average of 261 students are using the School Bank Depository, which is conducted by the school, in co-operation with the Hillsdale National Bank. An invitation was read to the members of the Board, from the Parent-Teacher Association, asking that the Board be represented at the Christmas party sponsored by the Association, held this Wednesday evening at the school.

Tuition To Be Raised

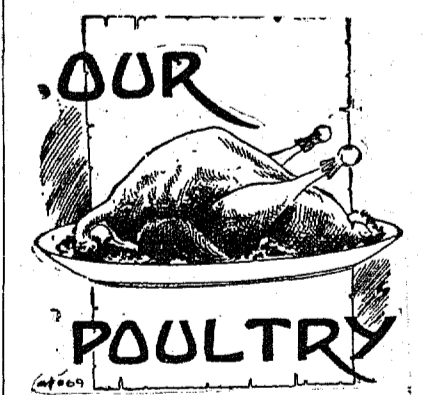

The Park Ridge Board of Education replied to a recent communication from the Hillsdale Board, stating that the price of tuition per student at the former school for this session will remain at $135, but will be raised to $145 next year, beginning with the September term. Communications from several firms of architects were also read by the Clerk, asking that they be considered at the next drawing of plans for the Junior High School when the proposed school is again discussed by the Board. A letter from the Sun Dial Garden Club was read, thanking the Board for the use of one of the school rooms which the club used at its last meeting. The Park Ridge Board also informed the Hillsdale body that Ethel Rawson, of Hillsdale, left school November 1.

Short reports were given by the Teachers and Study Committees and by the Building and Grounds Committee. The Library Committee and the Committee on Textbooks and Supplies also gave short reports.
Elie Dury, Tax Collector and Borough Treasurer, talked briefly to the Board, following which the meeting adjourned. Those present were: President Ira Dury, Arthur S. Cofod, Geo. L. Swartzwell, James Nutt, William Perry, District Clerk Geo. Strohsahl, Dr. J. W. Fox and Principal George G. White.

WESTWOOD WOMAN'S CLUB TO INCORPORATE

The Westwood Woman's Club will be incorporated, it was decided at the regular meeting of the club held last Friday afternoon in the basement of the Westwood Methodist church. Plans are under way for the purchase of a lot, 100x125, on Hill street. Members were asked to be ready to vote on this plan at the January meeting.
Reports were read from the chair-ladies of the various Departments of the club. Mrs. H. O. Whitford is in charge of arrangements for the Christmas Sing to be held in the Pascack Theatre this Sunday. Invitations have been sent to several clubs in the vicinity, to join the Westwood women.
All members of the local Woman's Club are urged to come, and bring their friends. Following the business session an entertaining programme was presented, including several numbers rendered by the Choral Department, under direction of Timothy B. Knight, which were generously applauded. Mrs. Case Howard gave a most interesting travogue of her recent European trip. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. A. W. Harrison, Mrs. Brundage and Mrs. M. Hubachek.

MASTER PLAN IS DEVELOPED FOR HILLSDALE'S GROWTH

to the year 1970. These plans are not only visionary but are capable of execution and should be carried out, not only for the benefit which will accrue during our lifetime but for the citizens of the future. City planning is analogous to planning in the commercial life. The city or town with the best plans succeeds, where the community that "just grows" rarely ever succeeds. I will ask Mr. Heydecker, one of the consulting engineers, to take you up on the mountain top and show you, figuratively, the Hillsdale of the future."

Outlines Future Hillsdale

Mr. Heydecker in his introductory remarks stated: "Mr. Livngood has given you biblical quotation. The old men shall dream dreams and the young men shall see visions, allow me to just add one other remark from the bible, 'Where there is no vision, there the people shall perish.' The cities and towns of to-day are embattled in a competition of excellence, and the town or city that is engaged in this competition protects itself by zoning. Two years have been spent by my associates and me in studying the needs and problems of the Borough of Hillsdale, and we have summarized and made our plans from every standpoint, namely, population, traffic thoroughfares and transportation, parking, railroad grade crossing eliminations, parks and playgrounds, civic center and public buildings, zoning and control of architecture, schools, sanitary and storm sewers, water supply system and street fixtures, the capital budget and administration of the master plan for the growth of the Borough and the drawing up of the zoning ordinance."

Mr. Heydecker traced briefly each of these problems and from time to time had Mr. Keller, one of his associates, point out on the map or master plan of the future Hillsdale the indicated improvements as proposed. Population figures for Hillsdale as given now and as estimated for the future proved particularly interesting. In 1900, the Township then, had a population of 691; in 1910, 1072; in 1920, 1720; estimated in 1928, 2370; 1940, 3600; 1965, 13,800, and in 1980, 14,150. It was pointed out by the engineer that these figures were no guess work but had been plotted by a circle graph, and had like figures worked out for the City of New York in 1904, for the present time, were accurate within four per cent, while figures calculated for the growth of the City of Los Angeles, during its boom period, the hardest time to figure accurately, had come within two per cent, a decade later. Proposed improvements, dates when needed by the Borough, and estimated costs are given below. The earliest possible date at which the computed debt limit would permit each successive item to be undertaken was then placed opposite it in the tabulation.

Item	Date	Estimated Cost
Sewers, 1930	$ 350,000
Civic Center Park, 1934	50,000
Broadway Land, 1937	245,165
Piermont Park, 1938	50,000
Eastern Highway Land, 1942	138,875
Pascack Park, 1945	294,625
Musquapsink Park, 1947	90,000
East'n Highway Paving, 1948	122,747

Each of the above items was discussed briefly by the engineer, with the assistance of his colleagues, following which Mr. Livngood, on behalf of the Borough Planning Committee, presented the plans of the future Hillsdale to the Mayor and Council. Mayor Yates on behalf of the Council and the people of Hillsdale accepted the plans and thanked the Borough Planning Committee and the engineers for their fine work. The Council adjourned until this Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time budgets for next year will be discussed. The next regular meeting of the Council will be held Friday evening, December 27, at 8:30 o'clock.
